

MAY DRAW DRAFT NUMBERS FRIDAY

Advices to Gen. Crowder Indicate Lottery Possibly Can Be Held Tomorrow

THREE STATES TO REPORT

Present Plans are for Drawing to Take Place in Capitol With Committees As Witnesses

DETAILS NOT REVEALED

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Advices today to Brigadier General Crowder, the provost marshal general, indicated that the national lottery to determine the order of liability of ten million men registered for military service possibly could be held next Friday.

Details of methods to be employed have not been revealed but present plans are for the lottery to take place in the capitol with the members of the senate and house military committees as witnesses.

Crowder Confers With Newspaper Men

General Crowder was in conference today with the newspaper correspondents over arrangements for the drawing. The press is relied upon to carry to individuals throughout the country the information as to when they will be required to appear before exemption boards and for that reason every effort is being made to suit the convenience of the papers as to details.

The problem of alien registrants, other than enemy aliens, came before the senate in a resolution introduced by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee. It provides for drafting of citizens of countries at war with Germany who are now residing in the United States on the same terms as American citizens.

Seek to Meet Lansing's Views

The resolution seeks to meet the views of the state department however, by exempting citizens of countries which have treaties with the United States prohibiting enforced military service.

There has been no indication whether it will have administration approval.

All states, except three, New York, Pennsylvania, and Michigan, had reported their local lists numbered for the drawing when the provost marshal general's office closed tonight. Officials said they had reports to indicate that these states would report themselves ready tomorrow so the drawing could be held Friday.

TO MODIFY PLAN FOR NUMBERING REGIMENTS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The plan for designating regiments of the war armies by number and branch of service only will be modified, it was announced tonight so that it will be possible to determine from the number itself whether the regiment is a part of the regular army, the national guard or the national army. Under the plan the regulars will be numbered upward from one. The national guard regiments will begin at one hundred and one and the national army numbers will begin at three hundred and one.

Thus any number under one hundred will indicate regulars, between 100 and 300 national guard, over three hundred national army. A similar arrangement for numbering brigades and divisions will be used.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT OF ARMY BUIEST

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP in France, July 18.—By The Associated Press.—The busiest of all the American troop departments these days is the quartermasters which is working almost feverishly to perfect its system of supplying the men with necessities. The work has gone ahead so fast that the quartermaster already has a three months supply of all foods within a short distance of the camp and a constant ten days supply here. The troops are still eating dark French bread which is being paid for with American flour, but within three days bakers will have been established and the rations will change to white bread with a heavy crust, that makes it transportable and durable. The American army will then be the only one in Europe eating white bread.

DROPS BONDS; HELPS BOY

Chicago, July 18.—Frederick R. Moore was carrying bonds worth $25,000 when he left a downtown building yesterday. As he approached the sidewalk, he saw a boy run over. He dropped his papers, carried the lad to his office and gave first aid until a physician arrived. An elevator man recovered the bonds, all intact, and returned them.

NAME NEW MINISTER OF MARINE

Rome, July 18.—Admiral Delbono has been appointed minister of marine to succeed Vice-Admiral Arturo Triangi.

CONDITION OF CORN GENERALLY GOOD

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 18.—Beneficial showers fell in Illinois during the week ending July 17, but rain is needed in some places, according to the report of the federal weather bureau issued here today. The report says:

"Corn is well cultivated and much is laid by. Its condition is generally good. Farmers are cutting wheat in central division, oats in the central and south, and hay in all parts. Wheat threshing is under way in the southern counties. Pastures are fair to good and vegetables are yielding well."

SHIPPING BOARD AND GEN. GOETHALS CONFER

Go Over the General's Plans for Shipbuilding

Chairman Denman Intimates All Disagreements Will Be Settled Satisfactorily as the Only Differences are Those of Policy

Washington, July 18.—Members of the shipping board and Major General Goethals, manager of the board's fleet corporation who are at odds over the government's shipbuilding program, at a lengthy conference today went over the general's proposals for constructing government ship yards and for speeding up tonnage now building.

Withholds Points of Difference. Neither members of the board nor General Goethals would say what are the points of difference over the program.

Chairman Denman intimated that all disagreements would be settled satisfactorily as the only differences were those of policy.

At tomorrow's conference the board is expected to try to ascertain General Goethals' attitude towards wooden ships, particularly those of a quick construction design of which General Goethals has disapproved.

This is said to be the only question on which the board and General Goethals are far apart.

Discredit Reports

Differences over the commandering program are confined largely to it is said to the price to be paid for the ships and the amount of money to be used in speeding up their construction. General Goethals is understood to be willing to concede to Chairman Denman that British shipbuilding in the United States should be taken over by the United States. The general's plan for building the government ship plants probably will meet with little opposition from the board. Reports that General Goethals will resign unless given the fullest authority to carry out the program the announced were discredited tonight. The general himself asked about rumors of his resignation, merely said: "I am a soldier and a man in my position appointed to a place virtually is under orders."

At the shipping board it was made clear that despite differences there is no intention to ask General Goethals to quit.

FIND MAN WHO STARTED RUMORS OF DISASTER

PASSAIC, N. J., July 18.—The man who started rumors of disaster to American warships, which grew into wild reports that the New York naval hospital was overcrowded with wounded men, is believed to have been found today in the person of Charles E. Knapp. District Attorney Lynch has obtained a confession from Knapp, which is said to contain a vivid picture of the imaginary blowing up of an American dreadnought. The prisoner, who was sentenced to a year in jail on a charge of disorderly conduct, probably will be subject to a grand jury investigation. Knapp's purpose in spreading the story, it is said, was to profit financially from sympathy he aroused by claiming to be one of the survivors of the battle. He pled his operations successfully among sailors, soldiers and marines, it is declared.

ONE AMERICAN SOLDIER KILLED IN WRECK

MARSHALL, Texas, July 18.—One American soldier, William Stonebraker, was killed and five other soldiers injured, one seriously, when four coaches of a troop train turned completely over and three other cars were derailed at Shamrock, near Victoria, Louisiana, on the Texas & Pacific railway at two o'clock this afternoon.

The cause of the wreck has not yet been determined. The train was running about 12 miles an hour.

A special was made up here carrying physicians. The injured were later taken to Alexandria, La.

ONE KILLED IN COLLISION

Port Dodge, Ia., July 18.—R. B. Cheever, baggage man, was fatally injured and several other persons less seriously hurt when an Illinois Central passenger train Number 631 and Number 16 collided head-on near Cherokee, Ia., today.

Cheever died shortly after the accident.

PAID INCOME TAX

Paris, July 18.—The chamber of deputies today passed the graduated income tax which has been under discussion since 1907, when it was introduced by Joseph Caillaux, minister of finance in the Clemenceau cabinet. The vote was 442 to 1. The obligatory declaration of profits and earnings, subject to verification by the fiscal authorities, which will be the feature of the bill most debated has been eliminated.

RUSS CAPITAL QUIET FOLLOWING DISORDERS

Tuesday's Casualties Comprise 6 Killed and 238 Wounded

on Unarmed Cossacks—Maximalist Moscow Bolshevik Troops Open Fire Ask for More Help from Kronstadt—Place City Under Martial Control.

Petrograd, July 18.—Following clashes between patrolling forces of the government and Maximalists, which occurred last night, the city this morning was quiet under a continuous downpour of rain. Yesterday's list of casualties, so far as ascertained, comprises six persons killed and 238 wounded.

Fire on Unarmed Cossacks.

Most of those killed yesterday were in sight of the Nadezhdenskaya when the Moscow Bolshevik troops opened fire on unarmed Cossacks passing in the Nevski Prospect. Their own firing started a panic, in which five of their number were killed and twenty wounded. The Maximalists have asked for more help from Kronstadt, most of the Kronstadt contingent having returned home last night. It was rumored today that a second influx of Kronstadt sailors might be expected before night.

The St. Peter and St. Paul fortress altho commanded by a Maximalist legion apparently is not in full sympathy with the insurrectionists. The garrison at the fortress refused the demand of a marching band contingent of the Maximalists to give them arms.

Minister Roughly Handled.

M. Tchernoff, minister of agriculture, was arrested at the duma by Maximalists who started to take him away in an automobile as a hostage as he was delivering an address from the steps of the building. The minister was roughly handled by the crowd, but as he was being taken from the ground he was recognized by Trotsky, one of the agitator Lenin's lieutenants who protested and hanged the minister's captors and obtained his release. The taking into custody of M. Tchernoff is accounted for by yesterday's rumor concerning the arrest of M. Tchernoff president of the central executive committee of the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates.

A group of Maximalists were arrested by patrols on their way to take possession of the telegraph and cable office.

City Under Martial Control.

At a conference of ministers and workers and soldiers' delegates last evening it was decided to place the city under martial control. General Polovtsov, governor of the military district, was summoned and instructed to use all the loyal troops to put down the insurrection. As a result he ordered out the Cossacks and several companies of infantry to patrol the streets. One of the first clashes between the opposing forces occurred on Trotsky bridge, where the Cossacks met a body of armed demonstrators. The Cossacks were armed only with sabres. A brisk fire was opened by the insurrectionists, whereupon the Cossacks fled up Liteiny Prospect, many of them abandoning their horses. Several Cossacks and several horses were killed. Later a brush between armed government troops and Maximalists occurred in the neighborhood of the Duma. The Maximalists were quickly dispersed leaving behind seventeen wounded.

A majority of the regiments of the Petrograd garrison and most of the armored motor car detachments are supporting the government. A machine gun regiment stationed at Stribna has signified its willingness to come to the government's aid.

General Lyoff today sent the following telegram to all the provisional government commissaries concerning the reported arrest of the members of the provisional government:

"In reply to your inquiry, the minister of the interior informs you that the reports regarding the arrests of members of the provisional government are false. Appeals to overthrow the government by force of arms and transfer all powers to the soldiers and workmen had the character of irresponsible acts on the part of the members of an extreme minority and were received in an unfriendly manner by the people."

"At the same time the government, in full agreement with the soldiers, workmen's and peasants' delegates and the duma, is taking measures to avert occurrence of incidents which might be inimical to the state. The events of yesterday and today have for the time interrupted negotiations for completion of the cabinet but as soon as the disorders and negotiations will be resumed to form a cabinet in which representatives of various political views will find a place."

Bring Thousands from Kronstadt

London, July 18.—A Reuter despatch from Petrograd filed on Tuesday night says:

"A passenger steamer and a flotilla of tug boats, several thousand sailors, soldiers, workmen and workwomen from Kronstadt to Petrograd this morning. They bore banners inscribed:

"At the corner of the Nevski Prospect and Sadovaya street firing was started similar to that of last night. It was followed by the opening of random machine gun and rifle fire. There was more firing still later in the Liteiny Prospect, the people in the street taking refuge in the court yard of the houses and in the rear stairways. Part of the Kronstadt party made a pilgrimage to the villa of Mile Kshesinska, from which the agitator Lenine addressed them."

GERMAN REICHSTAG CONVENES TOMORROW

New Imperial Chancellor Will Speak Concerning His Stand on the War

ATTITUDE IS UNCERTAIN

Some Believe Michaelis Favors Peace and Others That His Policy Will Be Militaristic

TO SPEAK IN AFTERNOON

With intense interest diverted from the moment from the fighting fronts, where there has been a noticeable slackening in hostilities, attention is focused on the convening Thursday afternoon of the German reichstag. At the opening session will be heard the first utterances of the new imperial chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, concerning his stand on the war—utterances that naturally will be momentous, inasmuch as they will indicate whether, with the recent changes in the German government, Germany is to continue her warfare without abatement or whether she desires for peace that have been heard so often in Germany, and especially in the reichstag, are anything but empty expressions.

The probable attitude of the chancellor already has run the gamut of diverse speculation, but as yet nothing has been evolved from the many unofficial discussions of the mar and his ideas and intentions on which anything like certainty can be based. Some writers express the belief that the new chancellor's leanings will be toward peace views of the majority bloc in the reichstag; others have advanced the opinion that his policy will be that of the militaristic party and there are others who consider his assumption of office merely a part of a stop-gap program preliminary to the formation of something in the nature of a dictatorship.

Speech in Afternoon.

Berne, Switzerland, Tuesday, July 17.—Private Berlin despatches state that the speech to the reichstag which Dr. Georg Michaelis, the new chancellor is preparing will be delivered at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. It is reported that German parliamentary circles are still uncertain regarding his attitude.

Preserving Silence of Sphinx.

Copenhagen, July 18.—Chancellor Michaelis, as a Danish editor remarks, is preserving the silence of a sphinx on the German peace program and the questions of internal reform but the liberal press and politicians in Germany manifest an increasing apprehension that when the sphinx finally breaks silence he will speak with a decided pro-German accent.

Herr Michaelis' putting forward of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff to discuss German peace conditions to members of the reichstag, his failure to consult parliamentary leaders on prospective new appointments to the imperial Prussian cabinet, his antecedents, previous environment and openly avowed satisfaction of conservative national party men with the change in chancellors, showed the marked uneasy feeling in liberal and socialist circles on what the chancellor's maiden speech Thursday will show.

Demand Clear Attitude.

The speech is not expected to go exhaustively into questions of reform or peace, but the time is too short for Chancellor Michaelis to elaborate a definite program. The Socialist agency reports that in all probability he will ask six weeks grace to inform himself and work out a detailed policy. The agency, undoubtedly speaking for Herr Scheidemann, the Socialist leader, demands, however, that Herr Michaelis immediately and unequivocally make clear his attitude on the Prussian franchise reform and the peace formula.

The Lokai Anzeiger also reckons with a deferred presentation of the chancellor's program and instances the question of parliamentizing the government as one of the problems Herr Michaelis will avoid because it cannot be approached until after exhaustive discussion by the federal governments. It appears unnecessary for Chancellor Michaelis to burn his fingers with this question at all because the Catholic centre party has already changed sides.

PLAN TO AID DEPENDENTS

Chicago, July 18.—Plans for extending free medical, nursing, dental and similar services to dependent families of enlisted men in the service of the United States were discussed last night by representatives of professional, charitable and civic societies of Chicago. The meeting was called at the suggestion of Jacob Flane, surgeon general of the Illinois National Guard.

SOLDIERS WANT CIGARS

Chicago, July 18.—Letters received here from American soldiers in France indicate that a few stogies would be much appreciated gifts by the men at the front. Pipe tobacco and cigars are available, but says one letter: "We are really suffering from lack of 'good old U. S. nickle cigars.'"

ORDERS RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE ATLANTIC FLEET

Take Step to Meet Problems Resulting from Expansion

Plan Involves the Addition of Another Vice-Admiral to the Fleet—Admiral Mayo Will Remain in General Command—Will Not Affect Fleet in European Waters

Washington, July 18.—Re-organization of the Atlantic fleet has been ordered by Secretary Daniels to meet new problems resulting from expansion of the force to almost twice its normal size for war service.

Name Grant Vice-Admiral

Details of the steps taken are withheld for military reasons but the secretary announced today that re-organization plans involved the addition of another vice-admiral to the fleet and that Rear-Admiral Albert W. Grant, now commanding the submarine force, had been named for the place. Admiral Mayo, the secretary said, will remain in general command with the immediate authority under him divided between Vice-Admiral Coffman at present second in command and vice-Admiral Grant. The former is to have direct command of a division containing most of the super-dreadnaughts and designated as "force No. 2" while Vice-Admiral Grant will command the remainder of the fleet under the designation of "force No. 1."

It is understood that the re-organization will not affect the division of the fleet now in European waters under Vice-Admiral Sims. At the navy department it was indicated today that possible operations overseas are not contemplated by the changes, and that there is little probability that either Vice-Admiral Coffman or Vice-Admiral Grant will be sent abroad in the near future.

Leaves No Vacancies in Ranks

Vice-Admiral Grant's appointment leaves no vacancies in that rank and if additional vice-admirals are needed a further authorization will have to be sought of congress. Authority for the appointment of three was granted with the understanding that one would be appointed for the Atlantic fleet, another with the Asiatic fleet and the third with the Pacific fleet, but so much more importance has been forced upon the Atlantic forces in the Atlantic that it was decided to station all three there. Vice-Admiral Grant will be succeeded as commander of the submarine force by Captain S. S. Robinson, now commanding the battleship South Carolina.

NAVAL SQUADRON TO VISIT BUENOS AIRES

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The visit to Buenos Aires of the American naval squadron now in South Atlantic waters will be made within a few days. Secretary Daniels today formally announced the acceptance of Argentina's invitation which came while the squadron was visiting other South American countries. Admiral Caperton was instructed to pay the visit at his convenience and it is believed here the call may do much to remove much of the slight strain that has been created between the two countries by Argentina's apparent reluctance to join Brazil in her stand against Germany's method of war.

WILSON MAY INTERCEDE FOR SUFFRAGISTS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Either presidential intercession in the case of the 16 suffragists sent to the District of Columbia workhouse yesterday to serve sixty days for picketing at the white house or appeal of their cases to a higher court appeared certain tonight. After a long conference with President Wilson, J. A. Hopkinson, former Democratic National Committeeman from New Jersey and husband of one of the prisoners declared the president had been deeply shocked at the whole affair and on learning the circumstances had only one thought, namely to "straighten the matter out."

MAJ. VINCENT FAILS TO PASS EXAMINATION

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., July 18.—Major Charles F. Vincent of the Illinois first field artillery temporarily stationed at Fort Sheridan, today was rejected because he did not meet all the physical requirements of the service. Army physicians said his heart was too big.

The verdict was a surprise to the major and his friends as during his college days he was a fullback on the Yale football team and still is something of an athlete. He was selected by Walter Camp for the All-American football team of his year. The major was one of the most active of those engaged in the building up of the regiment.

PENNSYLVANIA ROAD SELLS ANTHRACITE MINES

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—The Pennsylvania railroad company today announced that it has sold all its anthracite mining properties and collieries to M. A. Hanna and Co. of Cleveland.

The sale is one of the most important transfers of anthracite coal properties in recent years and is the result of a determination of the Pennsylvania railroad several years ago to divest itself of interests not directly concerned in the transportation service.

GERMANS RETURNING FRENCH TO FRANCE

LONDON, July 18.—French men, women and children, under 18 and more than fifty years of age, are being returned by the Germans to France from the occupied sections in the northern part of the country at the rate of 1,000 a day, according to advices received by the Belgian relief commission here. The repatriation is being carried out thru Switzerland.

Thousands of these refugees have arrived at Evian les Bains, in the department of Haute Savoie, on Lake Geneva. Their condition is described as most pitiful.

FEDERAL OFFICERS WORK TO SOLVE ALLEGED PLOT

Arrest Three Men in Kansas—Being Guarded Carefully

Men Charged With Attempts to Spread Disease by Inoculation thru Court Plaster—Government Tests Reveal Tetanus Germs on Plasters.

Kansas City, July 18.—Further than announcing that the entire machinery of the federal government in Kansas was working toward solution of what was described as having the elements of a reign of terror thruout that state, no additional details were available tonight toward unravelling the alleged plot of three men to spread disease by inoculation thru court plaster.

Willing to Give Adhesive Away.

The alleged plot, as announced by Fred Robertson, United States district attorney of Kansas at Kansas City, Kans., today, was disclosed to the authorities by the willingness of the men to give away the adhesive after failing to sell the packages in small towns in the state. The men now under arrest have been carefully guarded for fear of possible mob action, their names and the towns where they were arrested being withheld. It is understood they will be brought here shortly for investigation.

Government tests conducted by W. S. Smith, government chemist and by several of his aides, were said to have revealed tetanus germs on the plasters and other germs not yet identified were said to have been found.

So far as has been announced, no motive has been found for the alleged plot, altho the Germanic origin of the names of the arrested men, it is said, might denote a plot furthered by foreign enemies. Skilled chemists and bacteriologists were said to have compounded the plasters as detection was said by the government chemists to have been difficult.

Attribute Death to Plasters.

Information received here tonight from Winfield, Kans., declared that the death from lock-jaw there of Charles Mulford several days ago was caused after he had treated a wound on his leg with court-plaster, his entire system becoming inoculated by poison shortly afterward.

Officials here would not connect the instance with the alleged plot but were understood to be investigating it.

Just how much of the state was covered by the men in their alleged campaign of inoculation, or how many persons have become infected has not been disclosed by the federal official in charge of the case.

GRIFFIN APPEALS TO BOARD MEMBERS

CHICAGO, July 18.—Joseph P. Griffin president of the Board of Trade issued a circular today in which he appealed to the members of the board to support the directors in a vote to be taken on Thursday relative to giving the board full power in suspension or enforcement of existing rules. One sentence caused much speculation on the part of the members. It follows:

"The responsibility of keeping this market place open rests no longer with your board of directors, but rather the responsibility is yours."

Mr. Griffith declined to discuss the matter but from those close to him it was learned a difference of opinion has arisen among members since fixing of maximum grain prices by the directors. They favor amending rules so that directors may have power to take any action they think warranted under war conditions.

KILLS OVERSEER IN DISPUTE OVER WORK

DANVILLE, Ill., July 18.—Russell Stout, overseer of the J. I. Brothers farm, near Chrisman, Ill., was shot thru the heart last night by Fred Chestnut, an employee, as a result of a dispute over Chestnut's work.

Stout walked to his house a distance of 100 yards before he fell dead. Chestnut went to Chrisman and gave himself up, not knowing then that his shot had proved fatal.

DISPOSE OF ONLY ONE AMENDMENT

Leaders Expect to Proceed Rapidly on Food Control Bill Today

WOULD CREATE BOARD

Pomerene Amendment Designed to Meet Supply Purchasing Situation

DISPUTE ACTUAL EFFECT

WASHINGTON, July 18.—In senate consideration of the administration food control bill today only one amendment was disposed of, that relating to sales by government agents of their own products to the government. A re-draft offered by Senator Pomerene was adopted tentatively by a vote of 54 to 17. It is designed to meet, especially, the supply purchasing situation of the defense council and its advisory bodies.

Expect to Proceed Rapidly.

Tomorrow, under a 10 minute limit debate rule, the leaders expect to proceed rapidly. Probably the first amendment to be taken up will be proposal to create a board of food administration of three salaried members instead of one administrator. The actual effect of the Pomerene amendment, written into the bill today was disputed by senators tonight. Those who advocated declared it entirely satisfactory to the administration and council members. Equal satisfaction was expressed by those advocating more drastic action, including Senator Reed, one of the most persistent critics of the council.

As placed in the bill the amendment provides:

Provision of Amendment.

"That no person acting either as a voluntary or paid agent or employee of the United States in any capacity, including an advisory capacity, shall solicit, induce, or attempt to induce any person or officer authorized to execute or to direct the execution of contracts on behalf of the United States, to make any contract or give any order for the furnishing to the United States of work, labor, or services, or of materials, supplies or other property of any kind or character if such agent or employee has any pecuniary interest in such contract or order, or if he or any firm of which he is a member or corporation, joint stock company or association of which he is an officer or stockholder or in the pecuniary profits of which he is directly or indirectly interested shall be a party thereto."

"Nor shall any agent or employee make or permit any committee or other body of which he is a member to make or participate in making any recommendations concerning such contract or order to any council, board or commission of the United States or any member or subordinate thereof without making to the best of his knowledge and belief a full and complete disclosure in writing to such council, board, commission or subordinate of any and every pecuniary interest which he may have in such contract or order and of his interest in any firm, corporation, company or association being a party thereto."

"Nor shall he participate in the awarding of such contract or giving such order. Any willful violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $10,000 or by imprisonment of not more than 5 years, or both."

Reed Adds Amendment.

To this was added an amendment by Senator Reed providing that the section should not repeal the act of 1862 which reads:

"No officer or agent of any corporation, joint stock company or association and no member or agent

LIBERTY BONDS AND FREE SPACE.

And talking about liberty bonds, it has been figured out that the newspapers of the country gave advertising space for the sale of the bonds to the value of five hundred million dollars. They gave this space to the government for patriotic reasons and at the same time they were well aware that if the government wants to buy shoes, steel, coal, cotton or any other commodity except newspaper space, that the producers would furnish the government all the needed supplies at a fixed and profitable price. Practically all that newspapers have to sell is publicity and so in supplying their columns and pages for publicity for the liberty loan without charge, they certainly are at least entitled to credit for having performed a patriotic public service. Possibly when the next liberty bonds are sold the government may consider the plan of buying some advertising space at the prices charged other large consumers.

THE CENSUS BLUNDER

The explanations of the census department about the methods used in making computations as a basis for the draft do not explain, in fact, the more explaining that Director Rogers does the more it appears that the department manufactured census figures to fit popular conditions as they thought they ought to be as related to the draft, instead of giving population figures as they really exist. The department has stated openly that an endeavor was made to protect rural districts and to give estimates which would result in larger drafting from the cities. Heretofore it has been thought to be the function of the census department to give the facts and not fancies. The census estimate is about on a par with Mr. Croel's fake story of the submarine attack on American transports.

THE RAILROAD BOARD'S GREAT WORK.

While some members and sub-committees of the national council of defense are coming in for criticism, it must be admitted that the railway war board has been accomplishing large things in increasing the efficiency of railroad operations and cutting down the costs. Without inconveniencing the public the board has planned that passenger trains representing 162,627,028 miles of train service a year have been eliminated. Such changes mean the saving of man power, fuel and motive power to be applied to the transportation of necessities.

The work of the board is by no means done and other reforms will be put into effect and bring about still greater economies. So great are the benefits to the several roads from the arrangements now in force that after the war is over the managers will not be satisfied to return to their old and expensive methods of operation. Combinations of this kind are in the interest of the people and bring to mind the statement made years ago by President Taft, that "There are good trusts and bad trusts." Great combinations of capital and of corporations operating along the same line are not always opposed to the interests of the people.

HOW CANADA CARES FOR SOLDIERS' CHILDREN.

(From a bulletin of United States Department of Labor.) The Canadian compensation for the soldier and his family includes not only $33 of monthly pay for the privates in active service, but a separation allowance to his dependents of $20 a month from the Dominion Government and further assistance in special cases from the Canadian Patriotic Fund.

For example, the wife of a private soldier with three children between the ages of 10 and 15 may receive either $15 or $20 from the assigned pay for her husband, $20 separation allowance and $25 from the Canadian Patriotic Fund, or in all $60 a month.

If her husband is killed she will receive $40 a month for herself and an additional $6 a month for each of her children until her boys are 16 years of age and her girls are 17 years of age. In addition, if she lives in Toronto or one of a number of other cities, she will receive life insurance. This will be paid to her in monthly installments unless she shows that she needs the entire amount at once to pay off a mortgage or to make a start in business.

THE ARMY AS AN EDUCATING INFLUENCE.

(Harper's Magazine.) With the proposed enlargement of our army, and especially with the establishment of a compulsory military service, the army becomes a more important factor in our education than ever before. Perhaps no one inexperienced with large groups of human beings gathered from all parts of the country can picture how much instruction the average young man needs in the simplest matters of life. A vast proportion of the world's physical deterioration would be prevented if youth only knew what an army, better than anything else, is in a position to teach. The improvements in the health of recruits, even after a few months of service, shows plainly how far they as citizens, had been falling short of their physical possibilities. From scattered sections of our country young men come to the army who are ignorant of the simplest rules of personal care. One-half of the state's regiment on the border last summer were found to be infected with hookworm. They were cured of this shortly after entering the service, and the gain in weight of that regiment was estimated in thousands of pounds. They went home wearing shoes.

Soldiers who receive lessons in adaptation to life become an immediate asset to the nation. They go back as missionaries to the remote communities whence they came and disseminate the knowledge acquired through military experience. In this way an army becomes an active agent in spreading throughout the whole country the kind of education best calculated to conserve and improve mental health.

IN THE TRENCHES.

Anyone who travels along West State street these days is reminded of the trench warfare in Europe. The main trench for the gas company's big main extends from Fayette street clear up to Webster avenue. There are laterals running to every residence lot on the street and so there is a perfect net work of the trenches. It is interesting to note that among the workers there are many young men students of Illinois college and the local high school. The work is arduous but the workers are well paid. Ordinarily trench digging is not the kind of a task that college and high school boys seek, but the employment is the most desirable that they can secure here this summer and the boys deserve due credit for their willingness to take up the tasks which need doing and which pay well, even if the work is hard.

These industrious boys are very evidently not of that class content to sit around and wait for a "soft job." Perhaps trench digging is just as much a mark of patriotism here at home as it is on the battle field.

BETTER TO FURNISH SHIPS THAN MEN.

Any American who can perfect a muzzle which will effectively take care of Senator LaFollette and some others of his class will perform an act of real patriotism. The course of Senator LaFollette in endeavoring to delay action on the bill providing for the building of aeroplanes to be used in the war is entirely in accord with the obstructionist course he has followed. The house some days ago passed the measure providing $640,000,000 for the construction of a large number of aeroplanes and it was the hope of the administration and military leader that such speedy action would be taken in the senate that the bill would go to the president in the course of a week.

Experts whose authority should carry weight have declared that the building of a great aerial fleet will be of immense aid to the cause of the allies. This is the statement which comes from England and altogether the argument in favor of the aeroplane program is clear and convincing. But LaFollette and others of his stripe will try to kill the measure.

Those who are familiarized themselves with the war conditions are firm in the belief that the rapid building of aeroplanes and ships will be of more service to the allies than the sending of troops. Certain-ly the American people very much prefer to give the money rather than the men. Airships of sufficient number can protect France and England from aero raids and can take havoc to Germany that will be a strong influence in the Kaiser's defeat. Then with ships of sufficient number built to carry food and munitions to the allies and to outwit the German submarine, there can be but one ending of this great conflict, and that the ending that all America and her allies desire.

THE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE AND WAR CONTRACTS.

With such leaders as Senator Kenyon criticizing the work of sub-committees of the national council of defense, it is quite evident that some reorganization or change in method of the working of the council is necessary. Senator Kenyon's criticism was based on the fact that enormous contracts for shoes and other supplies have been made by the government with corporations whose officers are members of the council or sub-committees of the council. The senator shares the view, popular with the people, that while there may be nothing at all irregular with these contracts or with the charges made, that the connection between the committee recommending purchase and those making the purchase is entirely too close. It is a case where there is a demand for avoiding the appearance of evil. The agitation which will result from the general criticism now being showered upon the council is very likely to result in a reorganization. It has been proposed that no purchases shall be recommended by the council or any sub-committee where in members have any direct or indirect interest. If this rule or law is adopted there will be a flood of resignations, for while most of the gentlemen serving on the council and committees are of unquestioned patriotism, that spirit is not of a kind which will lead them to knowingly sacrifice the interests of their business associates.

PRAIRIE SCHOONER ADVERTISING METHODS.

It is said that in the campaign of publicity for the next liberty bond issue a plan is included for a tour of old-time prairie schooners under the conduct of the Illinois Woman's committee of the council of national defense. These old time schooners, however, will have motor power instead of horses. Women speakers who tour the state will pay visits to the various fairs and attend other public gatherings. By this plan of advertising, which it is acknowledged is unique, the women hope to give material aid in selling the bonds.

This novel plan may bring good results but it is difficult to figure out just what class of purchasers will be reached by such publicity. The best way to sell liberty bonds first of all is to make the interest such that the bonds offer attractive investment, securities free from all taxation and backed by the strongest government in the world. The next best method is to sell the bonds on the plea of patriotism, pointing out that while we are sending troops and building ships, that the first and greatest need we can give our allies is money. Freak methods of publicity strike one as strangely out of accord with the business of selling gilt edge investment securities on a business or patriotic basis.

THE STIMULUS OF HIGH PRICES.

When prices are high almost surely there comes a rush to engage in the business of selling those commodities affected by market conditions. Three years ago the coal producing companies in most states were in a very bad way because of the light industrial demand. Many of the companies were operating with receiverships and it was almost impossible to float the securities of any new concern. This condition prevailed clear up until the late summer of 1916. It was just a year ago that the industry felt the impulse of war conditions and prices began to climb. Since that time scores of mines previously abandoned because of the great expense of pumping water or because of peculiar under ground formations which made mining expensive. But with present prices these operation costs would not be prohibitive and many mines of this class have been opened. Already hundreds of new companies are being organized with the purpose of immediately sinking shafts and developing coal lands. The chances are that they will have little difficulty in securing the necessary capital. But when conditions again get back to normal or fall below that level there will come a mighty change in the value of coal property securities. The organization activity and the unprecedented stimulation of the coal mining business are referred to in an editorial in the Galesburg Mail, which mentions seven or eight companies just forming and advertised in one circular. The companies named are only a few of the many offering their investment opportunities to those who have money to chance in a business not exceedingly profitable but usually very perilous.

CLARK'S CHAPEL LADIES' AID.

Work for the Red Cross was the subject of the regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Clark's Chapel M. E. church, held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Social Events

Miss Henry's Engagement Announced.

Miss Emma Henry entertained the members of her Sunday school class at her home near Woodson Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock dinner, in honor of her friend, Miss Golda Stidle of Bloomington. Sixteen were present and an elaborate four course dinner was served. At this time Miss Henry's engagement was announced to Mr. Earl Hembrough. The announcement was made with heart shaped cards bound with rose buds, bearing the initials of the contracting parties. The dining room was tastefully decorated for the occasion the color scheme being pink and white.

Mrs. Neill Observes Her 77th Birthday.

Mrs. J. F. Neill celebrated her 77th birthday Wednesday at her home near Arcadia. An elaborate three course dinner was served to the many guests. The colors were pink and white and a large bouquet gathered from Mrs. Neill's garden adorned the table. At the end of dinner the candles on the large birthday cake were lighted. Mrs. Rudisill cut the cake. Mrs. J. F. Neill received the ring, Floy Clark the penny, Mr. Nathan Neill the darning needle, Olive Hitchens the thimble and Eugene Rexroat the button.

Those present were: Mrs. Rudisill, Mrs. Rexroat, Mrs. Mabel Clark, Cecil Rudisill, Edith Crum, Eugene, Paul, Kathryn and Hulda Rexroat; Olive Hitchens, Ruth and Ella Deatherage, Nina Neill, the great grandchildren, Floy and Margery Clark, and Marion Crum.

You Can Shake Loose from The Tortures of Rheumatism
By using S. S. S.
The germs of Rheumatism are in the blood, which is laden with millions of the minute demons of pain, causing untold suffering and bringing its victim from vigor and strength to almost helplessness. To get real and genuine relief from this disease, these disease germs must be completely routed out of the system through the blood.
S. S. S. has been used for fifty years with satisfactory results in the treatment of Rheumatism. It acts directly upon the blood, which it promptly purifies of all disease germs. It is a powerful antidote, and eliminates from the blood all trace of rheumatic germs, building up and strengthening the run-down system.
Write to-day to our medical director, who will give you valuable advice regarding the proper treatment of your own case. Address Swift Specific Co., Dept. I Atlanta, Ga.

DELAYED WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT MADE
Charles White and Miss Stratmeyer were married at Murphysboro several months since — illness in Bride's family caused delay in announcement.
The announcement that Charles White was married some weeks ago at Murphysboro will come as a genuine surprise to the young man's many friends. Mr. White let his friends in on the secret yesterday, when he announced that his marriage to Miss Erma Stratmeyer of McNeel, Ill., was solemnized at Murphysboro two months since.
It was the intention of the young people to establish their home in Jacksonville a few weeks after their marriage, but because of the illness of Mrs. White's sister her presence has been needed at home, and so announcement of the marriage was delayed. Now, however, home conditions are such that Mrs. White is soon to come to Jacksonville.
This young bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry White of South Church street, has for several years held a position as bookkeeper in the bank of F. G. Farrell & Co., and has the confidence and good will of his employers. His bride formerly lived here and is held in high regard by those who know her best.
MANY STATE POSITIONS OPEN.
The civil service commission has announced August 18 as the date for examinations for filling a number of important positions. Among these are the position of deputy penitentiary warden with a salary of $150 to $200 a month with maintenance; chief engineer, $100 to $150 a month with maintenance; department bookkeeper, $125 to $150 a month; electrical engineer for utilities commission, $200 to $300 a month; mechanical engineer for the commission, $160 to $250 a month. An examination to be given at the same time, and which is an unusual one, is that for university secretary at the University of Illinois. This position is open only to college graduates having a reading knowledge of two of the three languages, French, German and Spanish. The salary is from $75 to $100 a month.
Enlistments in the service of the U. S. army are causing an increasing number of vacancies in the state service and a lessening in the number of applicants. Owing to this state of affairs it is becoming more and more difficult to fill technical positions, and it therefore should be comparatively easy for competent persons to qualify.

THE SEMINOLE REMNANT

They are always draining the Everglades of Florida, and in connection with every drainage enterprise, good, bad, and indifferent, the problem of disposing of the remnant of the Seminole Indian tribe, in the Land of Flowers, is certain to come to the front, as freshly and vigorously as it has at any time during the last half century. In comparison with later difficulties, the Seminole War, in which the United States was involved from 1835 to 1842, falls of course, into insignificance, yet a seven-years' war, that cost $40,000,000, and thousands of lives, would not be called a small affair, even in our time. Nor is it edifying to recall the reason why the United States engaged in it, and prosecuted it until one of the most spicuous tribes that ever trod the North American Continent was vanquished, and, in large part, brought under subjection.

History informs us, in a rather off-hand fashion, that two Indian wars in the '30s, one known as the "Black Hawk" War, the other as the "Seminole" War, had their origin in the prosecution of the policy, started by President Monroe, of removing the Indians to reservations west of the Mississippi, the purpose being to get them into somewhat restricted quarters, where they might be more readily dealt with. Nearly every schoolboy of a generation or two ago, was made familiar with the details of the war in Florida by reading the thrilling narrative entitled, "Osceola, the Seminole Chief," and nearly every schoolboy thus informed, then and later, became an ardent partisan of the oppressed tribe and its heroic leader.

It was Osceola who interfered with the operation of the particular Monroe doctrine referred to. He did not fail in with the theory of the Great White Father at Washington, that it would be all the better for the red man, in the end, if he were denied what he mistakenly believed to be his right: to hunt and roam wherever he liked in a land which he regarded as his own. So when the Indian commissioners and the military gentlemen representing the Great White Father had all the papers nicely drawn up, and had a treaty impressively displayed, and Osceola was invited to come forward and sign, thus agreeing that he and his people consented to leave Florida forever, and to take up their abode in the territory called Indian, now known as the State of Oklahoma, instead of accepting the proffered pen, he pulled a knife from his belt, driving it through the spot where his mark was to be, pinned the document to the council table and fled.

This meant "war to the knife," and it did not end until Osceola was treacherously seized under a flag of truce. He was first imprisoned at Fort Marion, in St. Augustine, Fla., where, to this day one is shown the hole he excavated in an attempt to escape, and finally in Fort Moultrie, S. C. Nobody in the United States, with a proper sense of justice, has ever been proud of the manner in which the Seminole War was brought to an end, and Osceola's name continues to hold an honorable place in American history and tradition down to the present hour.

The Seminoles were never wholly conquered. When the main body of the tribe was forcibly expatriated, a remnant that had fled to the Everglades remained behind, and the descendants of these have made their home in the cypress swamps ever since. According to the last census, the Seminoles, as distinct from the Creeks, and as one of the five civilized nations in Oklahoma, number 3127. Those in the Everglades, who cannot be called civilized, number about 600.

As remarked in the beginning, the Everglades are always being drained, and those who are draining them now have decided, it is understood, as it has been decided nearly a century ago, with regard to the whole tribe, that it will be better for the remnant to move. It is not likely that this, the remnant will like this, but the Seminoles are weaker, and the whites are stronger, than in the '30s, so that it will probably not take seven years, or the expenditure of $40,000,000, or the sacrifice of thousands of lives, to bring about the deportation this time. On the whole, perhaps it will be better for the remnant to move. There are not many opportunities for the Indians in the Everglades, undrained or drained.

GOVERNMENT'S STEEL NEEDS

The activity now prevailing in the iron and steel trade throughout the United States is unprecedented. The enormous demands of the Government are largely responsible for this condition. When Andrew Carnegie gave utterance to his much-quoted remark that the steel industry was "either a prince or a pauper," the trade was a toddling infant, compared with the robust giant it is today. In 1880 the steel output of the United States amounted to 100,000 tons. Last year the quantity produced was about 40,000,000 tons. It has been estimated that the total for the current year will reach at least 45,000,000 tons. The production would doubtless run much larger than this were the mills capable of handling the business offered.

Recently the trade was astonished by reports from the leading producer, stating that there had actually been a decrease in unfilled orders on hand. With the statements of preceding months showing constantly increasing unfilled orders, it had been generally supposed that the report would show the usual big increase. It transpires, however, that the corporation in question had been turning away a large amount of business for the sake of being ready to fill Government requirements. Steel mills have been running at capacity for some time, even at rapidly ascending prices, for consumers seemed determined to have the steel at whatever cost. Now, the needs of the Government must be supplied, and, as they are urgent, there must be no delay in filling them. Some large Governmental orders have been placed, but they are small as compared with what are expected. The Bethlehem Steel Company, which has been doing an enormous business for the Governments of Europe, as well as for the United States, is today spending $20,000,000 on plants to be devoted entirely to the needs of the United States Government. The United States Steel Corporation and other steel concerns have already spent many millions of dollars in similar preparations.

Earnings of many steel companies during the last year have ranged all the way from 40 to 80 per cent on the stock. Shareholders already have reaped a rich harvest, and they doubtless will utter no complaint now that they are to perform so important a part in achieving victory through it may mean the sacrifice of substantial profits on the part of their companies. Steel furnishes an enormous contribution in war, and the mills of the United States stand ready to provide all that is needed to win in the present conflict.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Laymen's Missionary Movement announces that in addition to his duties as Public Secretary of the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief, Dr. Fred P. Haggard has been assigned to the editorial direction of "Men and Missions," the general literature of the Laymen's Movement.

Men and Missions has already achieved a signal success. It has been the editorship of Mr. W. E. Doughty, was the best in its history. Mr. Doughty now becomes the general field secretary of the movement, a position for which he is exceptionally qualified.

The September number of the magazine will be the first under the new arrangement. Special effort will be made to increase its readability as a distinctive layman's periodical. Facts, news-items, feature stories, illustrations, and personal sketches will be more largely used than in the past, although the longer articles will still appear. The subscription price will remain the same, fifty cents.

Three new field Secretaries of the Laymen's Movement have been appointed:—Frank C. Jackson, Washington State; J. C. Worley, California; C. P. Burgess, New York.

THE CALL OF HER PEOPLE.
"The Call of Her People" which was shown at the Grand Wednesday afternoon and evening proved a picture of excellent qualities. The picture is a seven reel Metro starring Ethel Barrymore. Miss Barrymore has great opportunities to show her ability as an actress and was supported by a splendid cast. The photography is artistic and the large audiences Wednesday afternoon and evening were very appreciative. The picture will be shown again this afternoon and evening.

H. C. Whitte, an officer of the Burlington Way Good Roads association, was in the city yesterday in conference with Carl H. Weber, president of the association.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

After having tried ineffectually to overcome the French gains in the Verdun sector between the east and west of the Avocourt wood and Hill 304, the Germans have ceased their costly enterprise and are now contenting themselves with throwing shells into the positions which General Petain's men forced them to evacuate. Likewise along the Chemin des Dames the violent infantry activity of the early week has ceased and artillery duels instead are taking place.

The British and the Germans continue their violent artillery duels in Northern Belgium and Field Marshal Haig's forces are keeping up their harassing patrol raids on numerous sectors of the front.

One of the most successful of these enterprises was carried out east of Monchy le Preux in the Arras sector in which the British gained ground and took prisoners.

On the Russian front General Korniloff's army in east Galicia is stubbornly holding back the reinforced Austro-German armies, which at various points are endeavoring to wrest from them the positions recently won in the Halicz and Kalusz sectors. In the latter region near the village of Novica the enemy won a vantage point from the Russians but immediately afterwards in a counter-attack lost it again. The Germans are violently bombarding the Russians south of Brzezany and near Halicz.

Late reports from Petrograd are to the effect that the disorders have been quelled. In Tuesday's fighting in the streets of Petrograd, six persons were killed and 238 wounded.

The weekly British Admiralty statement shows that last week fourteen British ships of more than 1600 tons, four of under 1600 tons and eight fishing vessels were sunk by submarines or mines—a slight increase in tonnage over the previous week.

RAISE STATE OF SIEGE AT DUSSELDORF, GERMANY

COPENHAGEN, July 18.—Advices received from Dusseldorf say that the state of siege there, the result of food riots, has been raised after 185 persons received sentences averaging 18 months. A big labor meeting vigorous protests were made against the severity of the sentences. Suspension of the sentences of children and minors and guarantees against reduction of the bread ration were demanded.

Twelve thousand workmen attended a meeting at Bielefeld, the center of the Westphalia linen industry, and adopted a resolution demanding peace without annexations or indemnities. They asked the Reichstag to support only a government making unequivocal declarations along these lines.

CRIES OF "TREASON" PUNCTUATE DEBATE

FAIRBULT, Minn., July 18.—Cries of "treason" punctuated debate on a set of radical resolutions which were rejected by a vote of 220 to 80 at the convention of the Minnesota state federation of labor here today. The resolutions included paragraphs demanding that the government tell "what the war is about" and condemning alleged employment of non-union labor in the building of catonments at Fort Snelling and during the argument on them, O. Vandenberg of Minneapolis implored the delegates to take a "firm and wholehearted stand against a government that is crushing out the lives of the workmen." Delegates in various parts of the hall shouted "treason" and President C. E. Hall directed Mr. Vandenberg to confine his remarks to the subject.

INDICT POWELL AND MARTIN

Chicago, July 18.—John Powell, state senator from the second district and John Martin, a resident of the district, were indicted today charged with serious offenses by a fifteen year old girl. A warrant was taken out for Powell several months ago, but because of his attendance at the legislative session in Springfield service was delayed.

ZIMMERMANN'S SUCCESSOR NOT SELECTED

COPENHAGEN, July 18.—A successor to Foreign Secretary Zimmermann has not been selected up to today, according to advices from Berlin. Leading German papers continued their campaign for or against various candidates. The danger of the candidacy of Admiral Von Hintze minister to Norway, as a victory for the Pan-German, navy and Junker elements is steadily clear to the Socialists, which concentrate on the Russian revolution of 1905. They claim he encouraged Nicholas' reactionary council and later offered the emperor refuge on a German warship. Count Von Reventlow, military writer for the Tages Zeitung, says that Count Von Bernstorff, former ambassador to Washington, is impossible because he is now, as from the outset, an advocate of a peace of renunciation and a flat opponent of the submarine war.

POLICE SUPPRESS IRISH NEWSPAPER

DUBLIN, July 18.—The newspaper Kilkenny People was seized and suppressed today by the police and military authorities. This paper is an important weekly conducted by Edward T. Keane, an active politician since the days of Parnell and now chairman of the local Sinn Feiners.

The paper has had frequent difficulties with the censorship, but it is felt here by good judges that its seizure on the eve of the parliamentary election to replace Patrick O'Brien, nationalist who died July 12, will assist the Sinn Feiners and prejudice any constitutional candidate.

The Sinn Feiner held a meeting tonight under the chairmanship of Mr. Keane and selected as their candidate for the Kilkenny Seat W. T. Cosgrave, who was recently released from prison. Cosgrave was one of the rebels and was sentenced to life imprisonment and he was finally released under the order of the government.

WILL FURNISH COMPLETE SANITARY ORGANIZATION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 18.—A complete sanitary organization under the direction of the Illinois department of health, will be furnished to co-operate with federal health authorities in maintaining sanitary conditions at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill. Dr. St. Clair Drake, director of the state health department, stated late today.

The decision was reached after a conference with Dr. Julius O. Cobb of Chicago and Prof. Earle B. Phelps of Washington, representing the United States public health survey.

It is likely Dr. Drake stated that the state health squad will be permanently located at Rockford where a survey has already begun.

COURT REVERSES LAKES COMMISSION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 18.—George K. Spoor and Peter E. Reynolds of Chicago are entitled to land along the Lincoln Park shore of Lake Michigan, their right to which was questioned by the Rivers and Lakes commission, according to a holding of the Sangamon county circuit court today.

The commission contended that land claimed by the defendants was formerly submerged and, therefore, belonged to the state of Illinois, which held title to all land originally a part of the lake bottom. A large number of other tracts, it is said, will be affected by the decision from which an appeal probably will be taken.

WILL NOT PROCEED WITH INQUIRY

LONDON, July 18.—Announcement was made in the house of commons today by Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, that the government had decided not to proceed with the proposed judicial inquiry into the report of the commission which investigated the Mesopotamia campaign because of the undesirability of diverting thought and energies of the legislature and the executive at this critical time from the prosecution of the war.

John Dillon, Nationalist announced that he would move an adjournment of the house in order to discuss whether the resignation of Baron Hardinge should not be accepted.

EXPLAINS EMERGENCY NEEDS OF THE NAVY

Washington, July 18.—Emergency needs of the navy including its aircraft program were explained to the house appropriations committee today by Rear-Admiral Taylor and Griffin and other officers. The committee is considering these and other items for inclusion in the coming $3,000,000,000 deficiency bill.

SAYS MANY GERMANS ARE FAINT-HEARTED

AMSTERDAM, July 18.—Many Germans have become faint-hearted, says General von Stein, Prussian war minister, as quoted by the General Anzeiger, of Dusseldorf. The general, replying to a telegram from the German national union expressing confidence in him, gave the following advice:

"Every one should possess confidence in the future greatness of Germany, but an excessive anxiety and faint-heartedness is still troubling many persons. Every one should endeavor to give an example of self-renunciation and sacrifice and to make selfish and faint-hearted persons ashamed of themselves."

Admiral von Tirpitz replying to a similar telegram said:

"The U-boat is extremely effective, but needs time."

ASKS DEATH PENALTY FOR MRS. RENA MOONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Characterizing Mrs. Rena Mooney on trial for murder of one of the victims of the preparedness parade bomb explosion here last July 1, as "a cold blooded slaughterer of women and children" and "an anarchistic conspirator" District Attorney Charles M. Fickert asked today for her conviction and the infliction of the death penalty in his opening address to the jury.

He asked the jury to "cast away all the maudlin sentimentalities that have been indulged in because the defendant is a woman."

Fickert will conclude his argument tomorrow morning and Maxwell McNutt will open for the defense. It is expected the case will reach the jury Saturday.

BOARD OF CITIZENS EXAMINES MINERS

BISBEE, Ariz., July 18.—Miners are coming into the Warren district at the rate of fifty a day to find work in the mines and mills of this copper camp. They are coming from Texas, Oklahoma, Michigan and other sections and are applying for employment after being examined by the investigating board of citizens here. Every precaution is being taken by Sheriff Hartley to prevent any active I. W. W. members from getting back into the district and finding employment underground where they could start labor agitations.

UPSET PLANS TO PASS AVIATION MEASURE

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Opposition from a small group of senators of both parties upset plans today for having the senate pass after brief debate the $640,000,000 aviation bill. An hour of discussion demonstrated the futility of attempting to put the measure through in a few hours as was done in the house, so the food control bill, temporarily laid aside, was taken up again.

Senator Chamberlain, in charge of both measures, indicated that the aviation bill probably would not be called up again until next week after the final vote on the food bill Saturday. When Senator Reed suggested that with further discussion action might have been secured today, Senator LaFollette emphatically interjected: "I do not think so."

TOMPKINS SEEMS UNDER GREAT MENTAL STRESS

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 18.—Authorities who have been closely observing George E. Tompkins, confined in the Cambria county jail at Ebensburg, charged with the murder of Edmund I. Humphries, Philadelphia coal operator, Mrs. Humphries and their son, as they were traveling in an automobile on a country road near Carrollton, last Sunday, tonight declared the prisoner seems under great mental stress but still maintains the murder was the work of masked highwaymen.

Investigation says the coroner's examination showed three of Humphries' wounds were not necessarily fatal. A scalp wound, they say, was caused by a blow from the pistol butt as was also the knocking out of two teeth which were found at the scene of the shooting. On Humphries' regaining consciousness authorities believe he tried to escape but was pursued by Tompkins. Humphries' body was found in a field at the roadside at considerable distance from the automobile.

THIERICHENS LOSES FIGHT

Philadelphia, July 18.—Captain Max Thierichens, former commander of the seized German commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich, lost his legal fight to escape trial in the federal district court here today. Judge Thompson refused to quash indictments charging him with smuggling and violating the Mann act in bringing a young woman here from Lhaca, N. Y.

TO RAISE MORO REGIMENT

Manila, July 18.—Plans are under way for the formation of a full regiment of Moros, in the hope that eventually it will be attached to the American expeditionary force in France.

FIGURES ON ENEMY DEPOSITS

Rome, July 18.—Returns from banks show enemy deposits in Italy exceeds two and a half billion lire, says the Idea Nazionale.

EXTENSION CENSORSHIP

Washington, July 18.—Extension of the cable censorship to all trans-Atlantic messages was formally ordered today by Secretary Daniels under the authority of President Wilson's executive order of April 28.

STATE TO WORK COAL FIELDS.

The Hague, Netherlands, June.—The government of Saxony has introduced a bill reserving to the state the exclusive right to work all coal fields which were not being privately exploited on October 18, 1916, says advices received here from Dresden, Germany.

WOULD DECENTRALIZE RED CROSS SUPPLY WORK

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Decentralization of Red Cross supply work, and standardization of all supplies were planned today at a conference of directors of the thirteen Red Cross branch depots whose organization has been completed. To these depots will be assigned supervision of work in their division and an attempt will be made to organize business staffs for each from each volunteer business men.

For the sake of standardization and economy, Red Cross buying will be centralized under Frank B. Gifford, former head of Armour & Co. purchasing department.

APPEALS TO BASSERMANN TO FIGHT RESOLUTION

COPENHAGEN, July 18.—Admiral Von Tirpitz has telegraphed an appeal to Ernst Bassermann, the National Liberal leader, to leave the sanatorium where he is under treatment and assist in the fight against the Bloc resolution in the reichstag. The Von Tirpitz message says:

"No passing food difficulties or war weariness must be allowed to soften the German peoples' determination and render possible a peace which would threaten the future of Germany and its working classes. The bulk of the national liberals will probably vote against the non-annexationists resolution."

The German conservatives have decided to submit in the reichstag an alternative resolution on the aims of the war from the annexationist standpoint. A test vote between this and the Bloc resolution will come up Friday. A majority of the reichstag the perhaps a small one is claimed for the latter.

HOUSE OF COMMONS DECLINES TO INTERFERE

LONDON, July 18.—The house of commons tonight declined to interfere further to foreclose the resignation of Baron Hardinge, under-secretary for foreign affairs. By a vote of 176 to 81 the house rejected a motion by John Dillon to adjourn the house with a view to forcing the hands of the government to accept the resignation of the Mesopotamia campaign. Mr. Dillon in a speech demanding the adjournment of the house castigated Baron Hardinge, but after his indictment of the under-secretary the debate was rather languid. Arthur J. Balfour, the foreign secretary defended Baron Hardinge, contending that altho he might be attacked for what he did as viceroy of India it was grossly unfair and unconstitutional to attack him as under-secretary for foreign affairs.

ENDORSE HOOVER'S PROGRAM

Washington July 18.—The central committee of the national dairy industry meeting today with the food administration, endorsed Herbert Hoover's food program and urged passage of legislation to carry out his recommendations. Similar endorsement was voted by leaders of the Episcopal and Dutch reformed churches. Committees of each will co-operate with the food administration. Lutherans will confer tomorrow.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN KNOCKED DOWN IN PANIC

Chicago, July 18.—Women and children were knocked down and bruised and a panic followed an attempt of striking machinists to seize twenty-five non-union workers on a street car at North State and Kenzie streets late today. The workers had just boarded the car when the strikers took possession of it. One policeman with drawn revolver halted the attacking force and held several of the number until reserve officers arrived.

GERMAN SHIP A WRECK

Ymuiden, Holland, Tuesday, July 17.—The German merchantmen Magdalena Blumenthal, which went ashore off Zandvoort while attempting to run the blockade from Rotterdam to Germany, is a total wreck. The crew, one of whose members was wounded, has been landed. The Blumenthal was one of the seventeen German merchantmen which put out from Rotterdam, most of which were either stranded, sunk or captured by British destroyers.

CALL FOR CELEBRATION

New York, July 18.—A call for the celebration of the birthday of Lafayette on September six was issued from here today. Municipalities were asked to co-operate with patriotic societies in honoring the memory of the great Frenchman.

RECRUITING SATISFACTORY

London, July 18.—It was said here today that the results of British recruiting in the United States had been very satisfactory and that the quality of the recruits was high.

LAY CORNERSTONE OF BUILDING

Boston, Mass., July 18.—The cornerstone of the International headquarters building of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, on Beacon Hill, was laid today.

HOLDS SIX MINUTE SESSION

Washington, July 18.—The house held a six minute session today, adjourning until Saturday without transacting any business.

PRESENTS SWORD TO WILSON

Washington, July 18.—A Samurai sword 600 years old was presented to President Wilson today by J. Yoshida, a Japanese artist who was introduced by one of the embassy attaches.

EMPLOY ONLY AMERICANS

Globe, Ariz., July 18.—It was reported today that the big copper companies in the Globe-Miami district would follow the action of the companies in the Warren district and employ none but American miners when they resume operations.

SAYS GERMANY WILL PROPOSE DISARMAMENT

PARIS, July 18.—A despatch to the Temps from Geneva says the German government according to reliable information mediates the dramatic proposal to its enemies and to the world for sufficient forces to maintain compulsory peace by compulsory arbitration.

"The German government," says the Temps, "while allowing the solution of the internal crisis to appear as a success for the Pan-Germans, has in view a maneuver of a different aspect. The bellicose declarations which Berlin will perhaps continue in Berlin will be nothing but the prologue designed to represent Germany as invincible. Afterwards perhaps sooner than is expected will come the theatrical initiative in which Germany will show a disposition to disarm."

APPEALS TO PATRIOTISM PREVENT STRIKE

CHICAGO, July 18.—Appeals by government labor department officials to the patriotism of railway managers and their shopmen today prevented a strike of six thousand railroad employees.

At a conference of the railway officials and employees, with the federal labor representatives both sides stated their position.

Shopmen demanded an eight hour day and an increase of ten cents an hour in pay, railroad officials said granting of the demands would mean an additional outlay by the roads of more than a million and a half dollars. Then came the appeal of the federal labor representatives, who pointed that a strike in this time of war stress would be disastrous. The appeal made itself felt and the result was the demand for an eight hour was granted. Compromise was effected on the wage question by the company offering and the men accepting eight and a half cents to machinists, seven cents to helpers and seven cents an hour to all the carmen.

EXPLAINS DEMANDS OF ROADS FOR INCREASE

CHICAGO, July 18.—W. G. Bierd, president of the Chicago & Alton railroad and W. J. Jackson, receiver for the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railway, appeared before the state public utilities commission today and explained the demands of the railroads for an increase of fifteen cents a ton on the shipment of coal in Illinois.

Mr. Bierd said the cost of equipment had advanced from 100 to 125 percent and that increases in wages also were important factors in the road's demands. Threatened strikes, alleged discontent among laborers and the increased cost of labor were mentioned by Mr. Jackson. The Adamson law, he said, increased the yearly wage scale of the Chicago & Eastern railroad annually to the extent of $236,434.

HAS FINAL FLING WITH WEST

Denver, Colo., July 18.—The Belgian war mission had a final fling with the wild west today and is preparing for resumption of the silk hats and frock coats that marked its daily appearance in the east but were practically discarded after the party passed out of Minnesota on its way to the Pacific Coast.

HEARS MANY WITNESSES

East St. Louis, Ill., July 18.—The general court marshal convened today Private John McCafferty of Chicago for fatally wounding John Eisenberg, 15 years old, heard many witnesses today. Ten of the thirteen officers detailed on the court were present with Major John J. Bullington, Taylorville, Ill., as judge advocate.

ARREST METACA

Madrid, July 17.—The minister of the interior announced today the arrest of the Aguirre Metaca, secretary to Alejandro Lerroux, the radical leader and Basilio Alvarez, an Agirrean propagandist.

BRINGS FIRST SHIPMENT

Minneapolis, Minn., July 18.—The Steamer Minneapolis, towing four barges loaded with plows, docked here today, marking the arrival of the first commercial shipment of this sort since Minneapolis became head of navigation on the Mississippi river. The cargo valued at $91,000 was sent from Moline, Ill., last Thursday.

Completion of the government dam above Fort Snelling made this trip to this city possible.

ARREST ALLEGED MOB

Flat River, Mo., July 18.—Details of soldiers late today brought in Leslie and Charles Bruse and Ellis Bostick all of whom were arrested on the charge of having been leaders of the mob that forced the exodus of several hundred foreign mine workers last Friday night. The mob at Farmington is overflowing. More than 15 prisoners are lodged there and more are expected. Looting in the district virtually has ceased.

CHARGE ATTEMPT TO OBSTRUCT REGISTRATION

Cleveland, O., July 18.—C. E. Ruthenberg and Alfred Wagenknecht of Cleveland and Charles Baker of Hamilton, O., state Socialist leaders were placed on trial in federal court today charged with attempting to obstruct selective service registration.

UPHOLDS RATES

Washington, July 18.—The interstate commerce commission today upheld existing one-way first and second class passenger fares from points on and east of the Missouri river and elsewhere to Arizona points.

WILL CALL STRIKE BY SATURDAY MORNING

DENVER, Colo., July 18.—The strike of metal miners in the Leadville, Colo., district will be called on or before Saturday morning. This information was telegraphed to the department of labor at Washington by mediators called in an effort to settle the strike.

It was said tonight that no further conferences were to be held and that no hope remained of averting the strike. Charles H. Moyer, president of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, confirmed this. Between eight and nine hundred men belong to the union and about 2,000 others would be affected.

SOCIALISTS BOIL CONVENTION

Fairbault, Minn., July 18.—After a day of wrangling between regulars and the Socialist wing of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor in annual convention here, fifty Socialists marched out of the hall late this afternoon. They declared they would have nothing more to do with the convention because it refused reconsideration of the resolution adopted yesterday pledging support to the national administration. The bolting delegates met in another hall but leaders declined to make public what took place.

ASKS CONDEMNATION OF DRIED FRUITS

London, July 18.—In the prize court today the attorney general asked for the condemnation of 1,800 tons of dried fruits from New York and San Francisco, seized on the Steamers San Francisco and Pacific consigned to the Swedish Viceroyalty commission, a government department, but alleged to be intended for export to Germany.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN COLORADO SPRINGS

Harry Spencer Succumbs to Illness of Several Months, According to Word Received Here by Parents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Spencer.

Harry Spencer passed away in Colorado Springs, Colo., after an illness of six months, according to a message received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Spencer, 1036 North Fayette street. The telegram simply stated the fact that the young man had passed away, and that the time was not stated, it is supposed that Mr. Spencer breathed his last some time Tuesday night. J. S. Spencer left for Colorado via the early afternoon Washash train. Burial will most probably be made in that city.

Mr. Spencer is a graduate of Jacksonville High School and a former student of Illinois college and after going west attended college in Colorado, specializing in chemistry. His first residence in Colorado brought his great improvement in health and after a time he secured employment as a chemist with a Kansas City firm. He is a young man of studious habits and great powers of application and his advancement was rapid in the profession he chose for a life's work. Already he had manifested marked inventive ability and his death is the more sad on account of the useful career which seemed to open before him.

Mr. Spencer is survived by his widow and by three children, Ellsworth, Paul and Jean Spencer. One brother, Frank Spencer, residing in Pueblo, Colo., survives.

MATRIMONIAL

Beghtol-Johnson

Miss Carrie May Johnson and Oliver Wendell Beghtol were united in marriage at the court house Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock by the Rev. John W. Priest. The bride is a resident of Chapin and has many friends in this city. Mr. Beghtol is a brakeman on the C. B. & Q. railroad and is a resident of Beards-town. The couple will make their home in that city.

SALVATION ARMY PICNIC

It was a merry group of children which went to Nichols park Wednesday forenoon in the special car provided by the Salvation Army and enjoyed an all day outing. Bountiful refreshments were served at noon and the afternoon hours were filled with the games which all children enjoy. The picnic was a success in every way, thanks to the generous aid of friends and the careful supervision of Lieut. Smith and Lieut. Estlin, the local Salvation Army officers.

WESTMINSTER AID SOCIETY

The Westminster Aid Society will meet this afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Russell at her home on Caldwell street. Members having birthdays in May, June and July will be the hostesses. The time will be spent in sewing for soldiers.

CHARGE THAT ENEMY INFLUENCE IS AT WORK

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 18.—Charges that "enemy influence" is at work to curtail the production of coal in Indiana and an appeal to both operators and miners in this state to combat the alleged influence issued today by the state council of defense, over the signature of Charles Warren Fairbanks, former vice president of the United States; Charles Cox, president of the state federation of labor, and Evans Woolen of Indianapolis, all members of a special committee of the state council. Definite information as to the nature of the alleged "enemy influence" was lacking in the statement but it was said after the meeting of the council that the charges in no way reflected on union organizations but that influence had been brought to bear on individuals and groups of miners.

PROTEST AGAINST PLAN OF SENATE LEADERS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Representatives of fifteen farmers organizations including the national farmers' union conferred with members of the food administration today and adopted resolutions protesting against the plan of senate leaders to fix a price of $1.75 a bushel for wheat in food control bill. Enactment of the measure as it passed the house was urged, the proposed senate amendments being declared unworkable.

The price-fixing section as proposed the resolutions declared would permit "gambling, speculation, and exportation to proceed without restriction."

REPORT EXPLOSION IN GERMANY

Amsterdam, July 18.—The Neues Tageblatt of Stuttgart, Germany, reports that on Saturday a great explosion occurred at the Wilhelm Weiffenbach factory. The building was destroyed, neighboring houses were damaged greatly, and windows were broken in the nearby village of Suedheim.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Soft corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection. This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.—Adv.

How Will War Affect My Business?

The answer comes from England—What businesses have prospered and the changes they have undergone

(By B. C. Forbes in American Magazine)

The people as a whole, are earning more, spending more and saving more than ever before. Wages were never so high nor work so plentiful. The rich who are not interested in favored manufactures, are suffering thru heavy taxation, but the working classes are prospering. The leading department store in London has had a record year.

That is what comes from England. "Business conditions continue to indicate such industrial and commercial activity as the country has not hitherto experienced."

That is the message a great Canadian bank sends.

"Is it time to get scared to death? I don't believe so at all. I believe firmly that it is going to have an expansive effect on banking credits and deposits. I know we are going to see a vast industrial expansion. It isn't going to be 100 per cent employment; it is going to be 120 per cent employment. There will be need not only for every man who worked before; there will be need for all the men and women. The unskilled worker will step into the place of the skilled worker, and the women will be called upon to take a greater place in industry. It is going to mean the greatest wage fund that was ever paid out."

That is the verdict of Frank A. Vanderlip, head of America's largest national bank.

But it must not be assumed that the United States will experience "Business as Usual"—plus. There will be more business, more employment, more money; yes.

But there will be a readjustment of business activities, a realignment of the nation's productive powers.

What you and I wish to know is how we are to be affected, whether our particular business is likely to be benefited or injured by the war, whether we shall be better off or worse, whether prices are apt to rise faster than our earnings, whether rents will soar or fall, whether our investments are to decrease or increase in value—in short, What will the war probably do to us?

We can best be guided by studying what has happened in England and in Canada, where conditions most resemble those here.

The withdrawing of many hundreds of thousands of able-bodied men from civil employment to enter the army at once entails considerable shifting of workers to fill the vacated places. This demand tends to raise wages. Next, Government places huge contracts, not only for shells and guns and other engineering of war, but for uniforms, heavy underwear, shoes, blankets, and other apparel; for canned foodstuffs in enormous volume; for flour, sugar, coffee, tea and other staples; for all the heavy and costly paraphernalia of transportation and equipment, including steel rails, engines, railway cars by the tens of thousands, motor trucks, aeroplanes; for horses and saddlery; for coal and oil; for ships of all sizes; for rubber; for cotton; and, of course, for chemicals innumerable.

Governmental orders have first call on the country's manufacturing mining, agricultural and transportation processes. Therefore labor is diverted, either by competition or official regulation, into all the channels for the production of war supplies. The labor available for the manufacture of luxuries is thus curtailed, and, as a rule, this is not a serious matter, because the wealthy in every country, those who under normal conditions are the principal buyers of costly luxuries, are always the first to start economizing.

By and by, however, skilled labor can obtain abnormally high wages. Women, too, meanwhile enter industry on a wholly unprecedented scale and receive very generous compensation. The result is that thousands, even millions, of families find themselves richer than they had ever dared to hope. The possession of surplus wealth is a novel sensation to them, and it is natural that they should want to procure the comforts and conveniences and luxuries this wealth can buy, even when they are appealed to from every billboard and pulpit and newspaper to save their money and buy war bonds. The consequence is that pianos, phonographs, low and medium-priced jewelry, silk raiment, custom-made suits, expensive shoes, fine cigars, the better grades of foods, motor-cycles, and even low-priced automobiles are bought more extensively than in times of peace, while, it must in truth be added, the consumption of drink in England and Scotland increased lamentably.

Extravagance ran so rampant in these countries that the Government intervened. The restrictive measures applied in Britain were more severe than that deemed necessary in Canada.

CAMP LEADERS HELD MEETING

A meeting of the camp leaders for the Y. M. C. A. camp which will be held at Lake Matanzas August 1 to 10 was held at the "Y" Wednesday evening. Five camp leaders were selected and seven boys deposited their camp fees. The five boys who will be leaders are: William Winchester, Herbert Summers, Earl Fitch, Louis Leurig and Paul Wilkinson. Secretary J. S. Findley and L. S. Recker will be in charge of the boys on the trip. Gene Wilson will again act as chef. On next Monday evening another camp meeting will be held.

How Business Has Kept Up in a Great London Department Store

The London "Financial Times" says that the balance sheet of Selfridge & Company, Ltd., (the well-known London Department store), for the last year showed a gain in profits.

The profits for the past five years (three of peace and two of war) have been as follows:

Year ending Jan. 31, 1913	£104,029
Year ending Jan. 31, 1914	£131,546
Year ending Jan. 31, 1915	£134,791
Year ending Jan. 31, 1916	£150,222
Year ending Jan. 31, 1917	£225,137

H. Gordon Selfridge, chairman and managing director, says:

"This large increase in our turnover has come in the staple goods—goods necessary for household use and for the wardrobe. The sale of luxuries and extravagant articles has practically ceased."

"The spirit of the people is against luxuries, and this business reflects the serious and absolutely necessary buying of the third year of war."

"Nor is our increase due to any government contracts."

da, largely because of shipping facilities. England's very existence depended upon imports from overseas, in and time the destruction of ships became so alarming that every inch of cargo space was needed for necessities.

The importation of non-essentials was rigidly forbidden. The list of taboo articles included every conceivable form of luxuries, from precious stones and gold and silver jewelry to champagne, pianos, phonographs, motor cars and—it is true—bath-tubs.

Rich families had to give most of their men servants and even women servants.

When Britain was first plunged into gloom and grief by her staggering losses a cry went up to stop all forms of sport, to discourage theater-going and to check all amusement.

This policy, however, was found by experience to be unwise. The discovery was made that workers driven to the limit of endurance, and others saddened by sorrow, could not bear up and render their best service unless they indulged in a rational amount of recreation at one time virtually forbidden, has been resumed. Golf courses are not forsaken, altho, naturally few young men frequent them. The great historic cricket matches between counties and universities and cities can no longer be held with their old time éclat, as the players are nearly all away "doing their bit."

But theaters and moving picture houses are usually crowded. Of course, Britain's streets are all dark at night; periodically there have been visits from Zeppelins and from bombarding warships; and three years of war have strewn the country with human wreckage. America, we may assume, will not thus suffer to any such degree. Nor are we dependent upon the importation of foodstuffs to save us from starving; we are a self-sustaining nation. Therefore we shall not be harrowed by any specter of domestic famine. Financially, we are adamant: our national wealth is estimated at $225,000,000,000 and our per capita national debt is only a few dollars, whereas England's national wealth was and is not only half that total, while her per capita public debt is swiftly moving towards $500. Our commerce, moreover, is sustained and will be sustained by very extensive purchases by foreign nations.

To sum up: War will not mean trade prostration, but the greatest business activity we have ever known. War will not mean widespread unemployment, but "120 per cent employment." War will not mean monetary stringency, but a superabundance of circulating money, entirely without precedent. War will not mean the shrinkage of savings, but a notable increase. War will not mean the universal ruin of real estate values, but unwanted demands for homes in all industrial centers and cities. War here did not create a panicky stock market and at least a fair number of securities will be substantially benefited. War should not mean the stamping out of all recreation, for recreation is as necessary as food in maintaining the nation's and the individual's fitness.

Finally, other nations, especially France, have through war found their souls. So may America.

WORK ON TEST WELLS AT NORTH STATION

Will Take Two Months to Complete
Work Suggested by Water Survey.

The work of sinking test wells at the north side pumping station is progressing satisfactorily under the supervision of Commissioner Vasconcellos. E. Graves of Kankakee, an experienced well man, was secured for the work and the city is using its own drilling equipment. One well has been sunk on the Freitag land, a short distance north of the city's property. Work is now in progress for a well fifteen feet adjacent to the well just mentioned. The two wells are being drilled in this relative position so that investigation may be made as to the effect that one well will have upon the other. The pumping will be done from one of the wells and the investigating work done in the other. Four other test wells are to be sunk in accordance with the wishes of the Illinois water survey. One of these will be on North Main street near the Burlington bridge, two on the Stansfield Baldwin land and a fourth at what is known as the north fork of the Mauvaisterre some distance northeast of the pumping station. Mr. Vasconcellos' expectation is that two months will be required to complete the drilling of these test wells for the water survey. With the log of these wells in their hands and some record of investigation as to the effect of one well upon another, the water survey will be in position to give their opinion as to whether the expenditure of a considerable amount of money for the development of the north side pumping station will be justified.

MRS. NELLIE LAZENBY SUES FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Nellie Lazenby, by her attorney, Carl E. Robinson, has brought suit for divorce from her husband, Charles W. Lazenby. The bill which was filed Wednesday in the office of C. W. Boston, circuit clerk, sets forth that the two were married Jan. 27, 1904. The defendant is accused of infidelity and the co-respondent named is Mrs. Bertha Fearnough. It will be remembered that Mr. Lazenby disappeared mysteriously from his home near Markham about a year ago. The police department was asked by Mrs. Lazenby to conduct some investigation but the explanation of the absence was made public. It is understood now that Mrs. Lazenby subsequently located her husband living at Bushnell in McDonough county. The bill recites the fact that he is a resident there.

DR. HAIRGROVE BUYS ANOTHER FARM TRACT

Acquires 320 Acres East of Woodson from Brown Estate—Farm
and Crop Notes

Dr. J. W. Hairgrove has purchased 320 acres of land belonging to the estate of the late Charles G. Brown located three miles east of Woodson. The farm adjoins that of W. T. Craig and is of high class quality. The land was offered by G. L. Lloyd as trustee and J. H. Matheny of Springfield as attorney, and Walter McCormick of Finley street purchased the land recently. Subsequently he transferred the property to Dr. Hairgrove, who had also been negotiating for it. Dr. Hairgrove already owned the farm adjoining Jacksonville on the west, formerly a part of the J. H. Pott estate, and he also has other land interests. The most recent purchase will materially increase his acreage holdings.

For a number of years Dr. Hairgrove has devoted a good deal of study to agricultural subjects and is thoroughly interested in present day methods of farming. He reads the farm papers and is a close student of the literature bearing on agriculture and animal husbandry sent out by the federal and state governments. Aside from this interest, Dr. Hairgrove believes that an increase in the price of farm land is sure to come in the next year or two as a result of the high prices for farm products. There is still another incentive in increasing farming operations now and that is that the business is profitable. The costs of farming operations have increased to some extent but it is known that the prices obtainable for grains and livestock have more than kept pace with the growing operation costs. The deed is not yet on record for the transfer of the Brown land to the new owner, but it is understood that the purchase price totaled $50,000 for the 320 acres.

Potato Prices

The price of potatoes continues to go down and retail price here now is about $1.50 per bushel. Some sales in bulk—that is, from 5 to 10 bushel lots—have been made at a lower figure. A representative of a firm known as one of the largest wholesale potato merchants recently visited Jacksonville. He came here directly from Minnesota and in conversation said that the crop in that state will exceed all previous records with a promise of furnishing five million more bushels than was true last year. This same authority predicted that the price of potatoes next fall will not be higher than 75 cents.

Will Plant Soy Beans

Sherman Luttrell of the Waverly neighborhood, who was in Jacksonville yesterday, said that the wheat in his neighborhood is far exceeding expectations in the yield. Some fields that early in the season looked as if they would not pay for the seed, now promise 20 to 25 bushels per acre. The oats crop is also turning out well and Mr. Luttrell says that he has never seen the corn look better. The nights are cool but the corn seems to be growing steadily. For a number of years Mr. Luttrell has raised soy beans on his farm but this year he has not planted any. However, in the course of two weeks after the final plowing of his corn he expects to plant soy beans between the rows. They will not mature before frost comes but will greatly increase the value of the corn land for forage purposes after the corn has been gathered.

More Sheep

We have got to raise more sheep in this country or there will be no wool for clothing, overcoats, underwear and like essentials.

Several things have conspired to hurt the sheep-raising industry and to reduce the wool clip from the sheep that are raised.

Disease has been one trouble. This trouble must be fought thru our federal and state agricultural bodies. Sheep killing and harriving does is another and most serious trouble. Many a man has quit sheep raising because of the ravages from dogs. The passing of grazing lands is a third trouble. Some fifty million acres of sheep-grazing domain have this year been taken up by settlers under the homestead law.

It is planned to offer 30,000,000 acres of cut-over land in the mid-western states to sheep raisers. Governors and state officials are being asked to pledge their efforts for the protection of flocks from vagrant dogs. We must encourage sheep raising in every way possible and discourage lamb killing for the butcher-shops if we want to have warm clothes when winter comes—Chicago Post.

MAGAZINE ARTICLE BY FORMER I. W. C. STUDENT

In July Issue of the Road Maker
Miss Celia S. Cathcart Describes Life of Mountaineers in Kentucky
—Is Engaged in Settlement Work
There.

In the July issue of the Road Maker, published by Joe Long, who will be remembered by many as one of the principal speakers at the Burlington Way convention held in this city last summer, there appears an article by Miss Celia S. Cathcart, a former student of the Illinois Woman's College. Miss Cathcart is doing settlement work, not in our great cities, where conditions are congested, but out in the open air, and in the almost semi-civilized districts of mountainous and hilly Kentucky, where the feuds of by-gone days took place, and where today the people desire learning, but until recently, but few measures had been adopted to better the conditions of the people in these districts.

Miss Cathcart in her article makes a stirring appeal for a proposed paved highway to the Pine Mountains Settlement, which lies in the valley between Pine and Black Mountains. She draws a graphic picture of life among the mountaineers. They have no means of transportation. They are shut out from the rest of the world by mountains, and are, figuratively speaking, placed upon a lonely island, away from the world. Strange as it may seem, and contrary to stories and articles that have been published, these people are ambitious, and the children of these communities desire an education. Schools after a manner are being built, and if the people of the country will only see fit, what has heretofore been considered a district harboring only outlaws and trouble makers, and men of quarrelsome disposition, will be made into a peaceful and educated community. A community, which, on account of its natural resources will benefit the nation, and will no longer be considered the barbarous portion of the United States.

While Illinois can by no means call herself perfect, as far as good roads are concerned, her people can help to benefit these forgotten souls in the mountains of Kentucky for without a way in which to transport their products, Kentucky folk, living in these places will be as bad or worse, than they were before they had a taste of education, and a bird's eye view of the better things in life, that lie out beyond the mountain walls.

SILVER JUBILEE OF THE MOTION PICTURE

Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Industry to be Celebrated Next Year—
Would be of General Interest.

Chicago, Ill., July 18.—A proposal for a suitable celebration next year of the silver jubilee or twenty-fifth anniversary of the birth of the motion picture industry is under consideration by the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of America, now holding its annual convention in this city. It is argued that such a celebration would be of general interest, since no amusement of the world has known ever compared in popularity with the photoplay.

It was in 1893 that Thomas A. Edison, by aid of the flexible film, gave to the world the first exhibition of motion photography. It was this invention, which Mr. Edison called the Kinetoscope, that made possible the big spectacle and photo plays which represent the great achievements of motion picture production today.

More or less successful attempts at motion photography had been made many years earlier. The "Phasmatope," invented in 1870, consisted of a series of glass-plate positives which were projected upon a screen. This was followed, in 1882, by the invention of a camera by Dr. E. J. Marey of France, which was the embryo of later-day motion picture cameras.

First to Use Flexible Film.
The necessity of using glass plates, however, hampered these inventions and prevented them from coming into practical use. It was not until Eastman and Walker, in 1885, devised the flexible film that real progress was possible. Mr. Edison, who already had given considerable time to efforts to improve motion photography, immediately saw the possibilities of the flexible film and was the first to use it in the motion picture camera.

In 1894 Alexander Black presented the initial moving picture play realizing in a crude way the principles of the photoplay of today. Then came the Cinematograph which was based on Edison's Kinetoscope; followed in 1895 by Edison's Eidoloscope and Vitaseope. The Cinematograph was the first motion picture exhibition to awaken popular interest and enthusiasm both here and abroad. After the Cinematograph came the much superior Biograph and the Vitograph.

Commencing with the year 1901, when stage folk without remuneration, commenced to pose for the motion picture camera, motion pictures became a popular amusement—the five cent theater came into being and regular theaters seized on the movies as an attraction.

Stage Began to Develop.
It was not until ten years ago, however, that the silent drama of today was born thru the realization that stories of fact and fancy could be visualized on the screen. Scen-

MRS. GEO. McKEE BRINGS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Charges Husband With Undue Liberty to Other Women—Tells of Many Gifts.

The following is taken from the Springfield State Register. Mr. McKee is a traveling salesman, and made his home here for a period of years.

An automobile, a piano player, other luxuries, along with groceries and wearing apparel, were among the articles which George T. McKee gave to a woman named Goldie Huff, it is charged in a suit for $5,000 filed in the circuit court yesterday by McKee's wife, Mrs. Dollie McKee.

The Huff woman is named as the defendant. She is alleged to have contrived to deprive Mrs. McKee of the "support and society of her husband" and to alienate his affections. According to the allegations of Mrs. McKee's suit the Huff woman lived with McKee at 204 1-2 East Washington street for several months and induced him to buy her furnishings to be used at that number.

The gifts which McKee is alleged to have bought are worth several thousand dollars, the declaration of the suit recites.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Adam Allinson
By Ensley Moore
(Member of Illinois Historical Society.)

One darksome, late afternoon in 1833, a little boy coming from Perry, on the Naples road, saw off to the right, on a commanding slope, a large house distinguished by a cupola or observatory. The child asked the chauffeur of the carriage, who carried the name of Father, whose house it was. The reply was

Adam Allinson's
and from that day to this the Allinson place has been an object of interest to the older growing inquirer.
There was something very impressive about the building, and the splendid site chosen for it, one of the few beautiful situations in Morgan county, and among not many in all the state of Illinois. The house was high and large, and like some manorial mansion, or castle of the lands beyond the sea.
At that time the boy did not know that out there, between the great house and the Naples road, near Swinnerton's Point, being about seven miles west of where Jacksonville now is,

Morgan County
was organized, in March, 1823, two years before Jacksonville was laid out.

Nor did the boy then know that,
a little east of the house, on the north side of the road, in the heavy woods, had been Allinson's Mill, run by the power of water, coming across the road, and sluiced up to the mill.
Nor did the boy then know that,
on the evening of July 5, 1861, Ulysses S. Grant

would camp his regiment, the 21st Illinois Volunteers, in that grove by the mill, as the Old Commander marched forth to immortality.
It was years after that the boy learned that another man, destined to great power, dwelt in that neighborhood. But was quiet and unostentatious, not self-seeking, but he was a man of high character and of decided views.

Mr. Allinson was married in this county to Miss Mary Norwood, a native of Yorkshire, England, who came here when quite young. Mrs.
Allinson died some years before her husband, being sixty five years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Allinson were the parents of six children, two of whom died young, and another soon after marriage. Her name was Ann, and she was the wife of John Funk.
Sarah became the wife of Robert Hills, and Mary married George Branham.

Adam Allinson, Jr.
was born June 20, 1834, and succeeded his father on the old farm place. He died some years ago.

"Young Adam" was married near his home, to Miss Ruth Jefferson, a native of Yorkshire, England, born there in 1848. She was the daughter of Thomas Jefferson. Her mother died in England, soon after which Mr. Jefferson came to this county and located, with his family.
Mr. and Mrs. Allinson were the parents of two children, Adarene, who died at the age of two years, and Mary, who married Mr. Wiley Todd. Mr. and Mrs. Todd live in the old home, and are the parents of several children.

The House
The Allinson house must have been built along about 1832 to 1835, and is in a good state of preservation, as it has a right to be.
For it is framed of walnut and sided with the same, and the inside finish is of that variety of wood. There is a high basement under the house, the two main stories have four rooms on each floor, and there is a large attic above.

The rooms are large, with high ceilings, and there is a wide hall running thru the center of the

The Allinson Home

(Photo By C. W. Taylor.)

Brigham Young
was a resident out there for some time, before he went to Nauvoo and led the Mormons out to their conquest of the wilderness and the founding of the territory of Deseret, or Utah.

Geneva
A little west of Allinson's, on the south side of the Naples road, was begun the town of Geneva, described by Dr. John M. Peck, in his "Gazetteer of Illinois," published here by Robert Goudy, in 1834, as "a post office and town site in Morgan county about ten miles south west of Jacksonville." But Geneva, and Allinson's Mill, and Brigham Young are all gone, long ago.

Adam Allinson
The builder of the fine house pictured with this article was Adam Allinson.

Mr. Allinson was a native of Yorkshire, England, where he was a veterinarian. He came to this country with his parents, locating in Indiana at first. His father died in that state, not long after their arrival there, and Adam left Indiana in 1821. He built a rough flat boat, floating in it down the Wabash river, and pushing it up the Mississippi. He finally reached this part of the state in 1822. He located land where the Poor Farm now is,
and land on which Illinois College stands. "He also lived to see his original farm constitute one of the finest homes in the county. "At one time he owned about 1,000 acres of good Morgan county land.

Mr. Allinson, who was a strong featured, fine looking man, lived until March 26, 1880, having attained the age of eighty years. He house, on each main floor. There is a stairway up thru the attic to the observatory, and from it one of the most beautiful views to be seen anywhere is to be had, in all directions, for the house is on a high hill. The bluffs on the other side of the Illinois river, about twenty miles away, are to be seen, toward the southwest.

Mr. Todd was kind enough to take a party of us thru his house, and seeing the building and enjoying the view was a matter of much satisfaction.

In all of Illinois there are few old houses, so well built, and fewer still with such an attractive and commanding site. Adam Allinson surely had more than ordinary taste and artistic perception when he selected the ground and the plan for his grand old mansion.

This illustrates the point that fine things in the United States are neither confined to the East nor to the South.

In this connection, something stated in a recent letter from Vandalia, this state, is worthy of note.
Mr. Robert F. Ross, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of our former capital, wrote that there was not now a residence in that city that was built before 1822.

It behooves the descendants of Adam Allinson to care well for the ancestral home, and preserve it, in its original form as long as possible.

A fact which it may be well to note here, is that the name of the father of Adam Allinson was probably Thomas Allinson. This may some day be of value in historical or genealogical tracing.

SPECIAL SESSION IN COLORADO
Denver, Colo., July 18—Convened in extra session by Governor Gunter to consider various measures of a war time character, the members of the Colorado legislature gathered here today. The lawmakers will be asked to provide for expenses of mobilizing the National Guard and to consider and act upon various measures looking to food conservation, including a law giving to cities and towns the power to establish municipal markets.

TO GIVE BIBLE TO EACH SOLDIER

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 18—Every United States soldier going to the front will carry with him a Bible, which will be given him by the order of Gideons, or Christian traveling men's organization. The details of the plan for the Bible distribution are to be perfected at the eighteenth national convention of the Gideons, which meets in this city tomorrow for a four-day session. Despite the high cost of paper, which has almost doubled the price of Bibles, the Gideons purpose to add 1,000,000 to the 370,000 Bibles they have already distributed in hotels throughout America, and to do their best to see that there is a Bible in the haversack of every soldier going to war.

GOOD ROADS MEETING AT ALEXANDER TONIGHT

Boosters Took Over Plan of Extending Burlington Way from Jacksonville to Springfield—Good Program Promised.

At Alexander this evening a good roads booster meeting will be held at which it is proposed to arrange for an extension of the Burlington Way from Jacksonville to Springfield. Several automobiles will go from Jacksonville to the meeting and it is also expected that boosters will be present from New Berlin and Springfield.

An excellent program has been arranged for the occasion. A quartet from Jacksonville will give a number of selections. Addresses will be delivered by Carl H. Weber, president of the Burlington Way, John J.
Reeve, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Carl E. Robinson, state's attorney. Mayor Henry J.
Rodgers and Rev. Walter E. Spoons also will be present and will make brief addresses.

Next year the state Centennial will be held in Springfield. That city will be visited by tourists from all parts of the United States as it will have the principal portion of the centennial exhibition. The natural route to Springfield will be thru Jacksonville, Alexander and New Berlin.

The Burlington Way is marked from Springfield to New Berlin as a part of the Greenfield extension of that route. The portion of the highway between New Berlin and Jacksonville is a part of the Ocean to Ocean Highway Pike's Peak trail.
The markings are not all that are to be desired, hence the effort to make it a part of the Burlington Way.

Whether or not the trail between Springfield and Jacksonville via New Berlin and Alexander will be made a part of the Burlington Way depends entirely upon the action of the Executive committee of that trail.
The Burlington Way is the best marked trail in the country and the link between Jacksonville and Springfield in that trail is most desirable. It is thought that the executive committee will arrange for the adding of the Jacksonville-Springfield route to the Burlington Way system and arrange for the early marking of the trail.

One reason why the Alexander people are anxious to secure permission to make the trail thru that village a part of the Burlington Way is because it is believed that by establishing the new link in addition to the Ocean to Ocean highway will hasten the building of the subway at Arnold which has already been agreed upon.

Those who contemplate making the trip are urged to be at the intersection of West State street and the public square at 7 o'clock promptly as it is desired to start at that hour.

EFFECTS OF WAR ON LABOR

Ashland, Wis., July 18—Effects that the war has on the labor market and on conditions of the workingman will be one of the principal topics for discussion at the annual convention which was opened here today by the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor. The reports to be presented to the convention show gratifying progress by the federation during the past year. The organization now embraces 324 unions with an aggregate membership of 27,197, the largest ever reported.

EXAMS FOR ARMY

Washington, D. C., July 18—
More than 1,500 candidates have been designated to take examinations, beginning next week, for appointment as second lieutenants in the army. This may be the last examination of the kind until the war is over. Candidates who qualify at the January examinations have been commissioned, and it is probable they will be ordered to Fort Leavenworth for a finishing course.
In order to save time it is believed that those found qualified at the coming examinations will omit the finishing course at Leavenworth.

SUFFERED STROKE

OF APOPLEXY.
H. E. Frye well known coal merchant and poultry buyer suffered a stroke of apoplexy at his residence some time Tuesday night or Wednesday morning and remained in an unconscious condition all day Wednesday. It is not known when Mr.
Frye suffered the stroke as he apparently was in his usual health Tuesday evening. When he was called Wednesday morning shortly after 5 o'clock he did not respond. Members of the family were unable to arouse him. Dr. Cole was called and administered the usual remedies but the patient failed to rally and his condition is regarded as critical.

A MILLION RED CROSS MEMBERS IN ILLINOIS

Reports Indicate Firm Determination to Put State's Membership Beyond that Figure if Needed for Aid of Soldiers—Former Records Shattered.

Get that million!
From Cairo to the Wisconsin line,
word has gone forth to the county Red Cross chapters to mobilize the state, on a scale never before attempted, for the aid of the soldiers now marching to the front.

A million Red Cross members are needed in Illinois this month. Without their support the Americans who fall in battle may die in agony on the field with no one to attend their wounds.

Unless they aid, nurses and physicians who have gone to the front may find themselves helpless to ease the pain of the sufferers for lack of the most necessary of hospital supplies.

With 600,000 now enrolled on the state's Red Cross list, all former records have already been shattered.
But these are history making times,
and a gigantic task of humanity looms before the nation as its troops set sail for Europe.

Illinois fathers, mothers and sisters are resolving to leave nothing undone that would help care for the soldiers entering unknown dangers abroad. Many are laying aside their ordinary duties to bring all their neighbors and friends into the work of mercy organized by the Red Cross.
They have launched so vigorously into the campaign for members that several counties have already passed their quota of fifteen per cent of population set for 1917. The minimum Red Cross membership for any county.
These counties are: Boone, quota
2,322, members 2,435; DeKalb, quota 5,018, members 7,155; Livingston, quota 6,089, members 6,090;
Menard, quota 5,163, members 7,468;
Piatt, quota 2,456, members 3,088;
Rock Island, quota 10,560, members
10,634; Will, quota 12,655, members 13,000.

Many other counties are pushing their membership totals close to their quotas, and expect to go over the mark in the next few days. Some which have started late give promise of making up for lost time in the membership drives they are planning.

Illinois will not fail her soldiers going to the front. The last reports from every section show a firm determination to put the state's membership in the Red Cross beyond a million, if necessary to assure care for the men at the front.

PLACED UNDER BOND.

Myron Corbridge was arraigned in Justice Dyers' court Wednesday, charged with stealing a horse and buggy from a man named Murphy in Concord. He was placed under bond in the sum of $600 to await the action of the November grand jury. In default of bond he was committed to the county jail.

Second Game Scores Winning Run
Boston Blanks St. Louis.

Chicago, July 18.—Chicago won its second straight double header from Washington today 4 to 0 and 7 to 4. In the first game Joe Benz allowed the visitors but three hits while the locals bunched hits off Harper and won easily. In the second game the home run into the right field bleachers in the sixth inning with Ayers on the mound scored the winning run and Chicago by bunched hits in the eighth clinched victory.

RIDGEMARK BIG SURPRISE AT CLEVELAND

Wins Ohio Trotting Stake—Kelly DeForest Takes the Fasig Sweepstakes.

Cleveland, O., July 18.—Ridgemark was the big surprise in a day of surprises at the North Randall Grand circuit meeting today when Trainer piloted him to the front and captured the $3,000 Ohio stake, the feature of the card.

Ridgemark paid the best price in the mutuels so far those backing him to win getting $141.80 the place price being $39.90.
Only two favorites won Kelly DeForest in the first division of the unfinished three year old trot and Ruth Mainsheet in the Forest City Sweepstakes. The judges were dissatisfied with the driving of the favorite Colleen, which finished third in the 2:05 pace and declared off all wagers on the final heat and the race.

The Ohio Stake, 2:08 trotting. Value $3,000.
Ridgemark, (Trainer) won; M. L. J., second; Wilkes Brewer, third.
Best time, 2:08 1-4.
The Fasig Sweepstakes, three year old trot, value $2,500. First division.
Kelly DeForest, (Murphy) won; Harvest Gale, second; Worthy Volo, third.
Best time, 2:10.

Forest City Sweepstakes, Two year old trot. Value $2,500. Second division.
Ruth Mainsheet, (Murphy) won; Miss Deway Watts, second; Louisa Fletcher, third.
Best time, 2:14 3-4.
2:12 class pacing. Purse $1,000.
Edward P. (Ray) won; Peter G., second; Battle King, third.
Best time, 2:06 1-4.
2:05 class pacing. Purse $1,200.
Walter Cochato, (Floyd) won; Jones Grey, second; Colleen, third.
Best time, 2:07 1-2.

PENNANT-RAISING IN OMAHA

Omaha, Neb., July 18.—To the accompaniment of a brass band playing "The Star Spangled Banner" the Western League championship pennant won by Omaha last year is to be raised at Rourke park this afternoon before thousands of ardent fans, followers of the fortunes of the local baseball club. "Pa" Rourke is to preside as master of ceremonies, assisted by Manager Marty Krug. It is expected also that the occasion will be graced by the presence of Governor Neville of Nebraska, Mayor Dahlman of Omaha, and President Dickerson of the league. Following the flag-raising ceremonies the local flag-raising will endeavor to improve its standing in this year's pennant race by administering a wallop to the visiting Denver team.

MEXICO REMEMBERS JUAREZ
City of Mexico, July 18.—The anniversary of the death of Benito Juarez, the national hero of Mexico, was observed today with imposing demonstrations throughout the republic. The celebration in the capital was attended by President Carranza and the members of his cabinet. Several hundred floral offerings were deposited at the tomb of the patriot, where a program of exercises was carried out under the auspices of the Juarez societies.

MR. AUTO OWNER!

Why throw your old auto tires away when they are good for 2500 to 6500 more miles.

My method of taking two old tires and making one good one is saving thousands of auto owners from 50 to 75 per cent on their bills.

Send me two old tires and I will make one good tire that you can get from 2500 to 6500 more miles out of. In sending me tires be sure one has a good rim no matter how bad the tread is worn. For the other one that has a good tread no matter what condition rim is in.

If You Haven't a Tire with a Good Tread I Can Furnish You One

PRICES FOR DOUBLE TREADING

Willard STORAGE BATTERY SERVICE STATION

(Copyright registered, 1917)

Give Your Battery a Cool Drink

Your battery gets as thirsty as you do this hot weather—and it doesn't take long to make a thirsty battery a dead one.

Fill it with distilled water once a week—as often as you take a hydrometer test.

If you haven't pure water, or don't want the trouble of filling your battery yourself—we'll do it for you.

Willard Service is good for any battery—whether it gives it a thorough overhauling, or merely fills and tests it. And if your battery needs repairs it provides a rental battery for your use whatever the make or model of your car.

Drop in next time you're down this way—and if you haven't one already—get a Willard Service Card that entitles you to free semi-monthly testing.

GOVERNMENT REVENUE LEASES.
Hayre, France, July—Those who wish to lease a guest on the probable duration of the war will be able to derive some information from the French leases which the British and American governments the signing on the property which they are using in French ports. The old leases are running out, and are being renewed for a period of three years. Of course, allowance has to be made for the work that will have to be done immediately following peace, but even so, this news is regarded here as confirming the belief that the war will continue well into the next year.

Peddler Uses Novel Methods.

street sellers of automatic machines is

lowing placards: "No Potatoes." "No Sugar." "Not much Beer." Try your

RENEWAL OF PEACE TALK OFFSETS DAMAGE
Corn Closes Unsettled at 1/2 to 1 1/2
Cents Net Advance—Wheat Makes Steep Advance But Amount of Business is Insignificant

Chicago, July 18.—Officially confirmed crop reports in Texas and Oklahoma and crops of Kansas hoisted the corn market today, but was partly offset later by a renewal of peace talk. The close was unsettled at 1/2 to 1 1/2 cent advance with Sept. 18, 1917, and December 14, 1917, at $1.14.

Wheat made a steep rise of 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents, but the amount of business was insignificant. Prices finished steady at the closing point of the day $2.25 July and $2.95 September. Oats gained 3/4 to 1 1/2 cents and provisions fell back 3/4 to 1 1/2 cents. The advantage most of the time in the corn market after the close of the opening and just at the close sharp setbacks took place.

Reaction in the corn market in the final fifteen minutes of trading was based chiefly on a Munich report that the German chancellor would declare before the Reichstag tomorrow that a policy of no annexation. Regardless of peace rumors, the corn for immediate delivery went to a new high price record, No. 2 yellow at $2.04 a bushel.

Likelihood of a speedy enactment fixing a minimum price for corn, however, was not a factor in the rise. Oats rose to some degree as a bullish wheat factor.
Oats were governed by the action of corn. Provisions lacked support.

Appeal to Teuton Mothers

Highest Power in Germany Asked by Hall Caine to Effect End of Zeppelin Raids on London.

Stirred by the Zeppelin raids on London, resulting in the wholesale killing of little children, Hall Caine, famed London writer, in an appeal to "The Mothers of Germany", asks the "ruling force" of the Teuton Empire to put an end to the atrocities by exercising their sure influence over the pilots of the terrible engines of death. The appeal follows:

(By Hall Caine)

To the Mothers of Germany: Mothers of Germany, all the world knows how dearly you love your children. Some of us (now your enemies) who in the unbelievable days before the war (Ah, God, can it be!) used to sleep and eat and laugh in your German homes as you slept and ate and laughed in our English homes, have memories of little domestic scenes in Germany which were sufficient to prove it. Two or three such memories come back to me now, and not all the fiery passions that have burnt up the sweetness of the years can quite blacken the tender grace of them.

The first is of a Christmas eve spent in the house of a beautiful young German woman with three or four sweet young children. Like Ibsen's little mother, she has spent the morning in mysterious journeys to the village shops, in smuggling strange-looking parcels into the house and in certain solitary occupations in the drawing room. But toward the early dusk of the winter day the blinds were pulled down, the folding doors were thrown open and then the little people, dressed up in white, tingling with excitement and holding each other's hands, were allowed to go in as to some magic cave, with our black-coated contingent of older folk following in the rear.

The Christmas Scene

There in the middle of the floor stood the Christmas tree, glittering with red and blue candles all alight, glistening with crackers, laden with toys and crowned with the welcoming face of the Christmas man. And there, too, was the young mother herself, waiting and watching with eager eyes for the wonder and joy in the eyes of the children. After the first moments of breathless awe were over and "Stille Nacht, Heilige Nacht" had been sung, she called on the governess to play something on the piano. Then there was a romp around the tree, the young mother taking the hands of her youngest on either side, and all laughing and shrieking with delight. I stood in the open doorway, I remember, and if there was anything more moving for me in the fairy-like scene than the happiness of the children, it was the searching sense of the mother heart, throbbing thru and thru it.

The second of the memories that come back to me is of the same home of happiness a few hours later. After various carols, sung in silvery voices at the back of the dining room door, the house was silent and with noiseless footsteps we were creeping upstairs behind the young mother to the darkened chamber, where her golden-headed treasures lay asleep. There they were under the blinking night light, looking soft and white as milk, each in her little cot, which was banked up with dolls and oranges and chocolate boxes in such positions that they must be the first things seen by the little sleeper when she opened her eyes in the morning. This was another and yet more touching scene out of fairyland, and it had the same sense of the mother heart throbbing thru and thru it.

The Day of Destruction

And now with a hot and quivering heart I think of other scenes in England which seem to say, rightly or wrongly, that the German mother who loves her son so tenderly can be more cruel to the children of the English mother than the wolf to the whelps of the fox dam. One is of a murky night in the first months of the war. On the top floor of a tenement house in North London three little children (just as white and soft and sweet as yours) lay asleep in each other's arms. A Zeppelin came riding thru the blackness of the skies and dropped bombs on their humble home. All three were killed.

In the spring of the present year a laboring man who lived in a cottage on the edge of a little holiday town on our southeast coast was smoking his pipe late at night before going to bed, when a shell from a German destroyer on the dark sea outside struck the upper story where his wife and children slept. Amid the crash of falling timbers he reached the foot of the broken stairway and called up to his wife. There was at first no answer, and then out of the darkness came a frightened cry from his little daughter, 5 years of age. "Come down, daddy," he called. "I can't, daddy; I'm hurt," cried the child.

The distracted man clambered up to the child, carried her to the outer door of his house, told her to find her way, if she could, to her grandmother's, down the street, and then returned to look for her mother and baby brother above. When he found them they were dead.

A fortnight ago, toward noon of a heavenly summer day, in an infant school in East London, a hundred children ranging in ages from 3 to 6 were singing their lesson before the time came to scamper home to their midday meal, when out of the sunshine of the sky two bombs fell from a German air machine and killed ten of them and wounded 50. The scene was a frightful shambles. Some of the children were destroyed beyond all recognition, their sweet limbs being splashed like a bloody avalanche against the broken walls. And a moment later their mothers, coming breathless, bareheaded and with wild eyes to the school door, saw the mangled bodies of their babies brought out in a stream of blood.

Appeal to Mothers

Mothers of Germany, if I have not spared you the pain of these descriptions, it is because I want you to realize for yourselves what English mothers feel about the murder of their children, who knew nothing of the war and had done no harm to anyone. Who manded the legion of devilish engines that dropped death on them from the sky? Your sons, and some of them are still so young that it must seem to you only as yesterday since you nursed them on your knee. Who directed them? Your fathers and mothers, and some of these are the rulers of your nation, and therefore responsible for the cowardly outrages. But motherhood is the supreme power in a state, always has been, always will be, always must be, and if you, mothers of Germany, had set your faces against the doing of such things they would never have been done.

Were they worth while? Has the military advantage gained to the arms of Germany by all her air raids put together been worth the golden head of one darling child? It has not. You could walk for a week thru the thousands of miles of the streets of London without seeing a trace of Zeppelin damage. Only one real result has come of these barbarities from first to last—a hundred and fifty little coffins have been carried to the cemeteries of South London and the hearts of English mothers are afebrile with burning coal.

I will not attempt to answer the arguments with which, when your mother-hearts have been troubled by reports of the hideous calamities that have fallen on our children as from the kingdom of death and hell, your military leaders have put you off—that they were accidents, military necessities, that London is a fortress which is imperative to subdue; that what Germany has done in London is less than what Frenchmen did at Freiburg, that war is war, and that the only mercy is to make it terrible, so that it may be the sooner ended and the peace of the world restored. You are mothers, and I will only ask you simple questions out of the soul of your motherhood—they will be easier answered.

Crime Against Child

Have you considered what a crime against childhood is involved in these unnecessary atrocities? We come into the world thru pain; most of us leave it in pain. Birth is a great agony; death may be an agony also. But between these two there is nearly always one golden strip of life, full of joy and peace and sunshine—childhood. To blacken out that sweet period altogether, to snatch the little, happy soul from the light of the sun—what an iniquity!

Have you thought of the sin against motherhood? When a woman bears a child she is a creator. God grants her the right, highest and proudest of His creatures, to repeat the miracle of creation. In becoming a mother she enters into the greatest of all empires, the Holy Empire of Motherhood, whereof the only King, the only Kaiser, is God, and therefore, or fealty is first to Him. When out of the valley of the shadow of childbirth, she comes back with the new life, the light of a great joy is upon her, and neither the fear of poverty nor yet the dread of shame can quench it. To put out that light by gutting out the life of her child—what a crime against motherhood!

The Right to Protect

Have you thought, too, of the right which nature gives to a mother to protect her child? That is a greater right than has ever yet been written in any law book. Deep down in every mother's heart it lies, and it is sacred and everlasting. The first of a mother's duties is to protect the little body she brings into the world and the living soul it shelters. The mother who would let harm befall her child, even to save herself, would be more guilty than the most savage of the lower animals. The animal mother will fight the felon sire for her young, and because of her motherhood the male partner gives place to her. An eternal law seems to grant to the mother of all species the right to kill, if need be, that her offspring may not be killed. By the measure of that right we may judge of the wickedness of taking away from her. To outrage the sanctuary of the mother's breast by robbing it of the child it suckled is the crime of crimes. It is a crime that shames both the world and God.

And have you thought, also, that if our Christian faith counts for anything, these hapless little ones who have been so cruelly done to death are mightier far than the whole of the German Empire now? Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven. It is to God only that they can look for justice; their victory is sure. He who is too weak to fight for himself has God to fight for him. Is it only an idle thought, a foolish superstition, that until the trump of doom they will be waiting at the bar of God, at the feet of the mother of all mothers—these slaughtered innocents, with eyes that are "as the eyes of your own children?"

I will not speak of reprisals except to say that logically, or illogically, nearly all that is best in our country is against them. But it is a fearful thing to play with the human soul, and of all souls the mother soul is at once the sweetest and the most terrible. Therefore, not as a threat, nor even as a warning, I tell you, mothers of Germany, that if further air raids over England should kill still more English children, no church or Parliament, or Government, or backward thought of Freiburg will be able to withstand the demand of British motherhood (bleeding for the loss of its dead and trembling for the safety of its living) for justice and retribution, and that the only result will be that thousands of your German children, just as sweet and innocent as our own, and living now in the fullness of the childish joy, will soon (God knows how soon) be carried to their graves.

Mothers of Germany, let us stop the madness and delirium of such an unnatural conflict, and so make reprisals on either side unnecessary. Is it not horror enough that thru starless nights and hopeless dawns all Europe is in sorrow for the daily sacrifice of the flower of its young manhood? Must the world weep for the slaughter of its children also?

ASSOCIATES HELD THE CAUSE OF ACT

Mrs. Ward Took Tanlac After Seeing Friends Aided—Gained Similar Relief

Mrs. Daniel Ward, well known resident of Sinclair, Ill., near here, after learning of the remarkable relief her friends had gained through Tanlac, decided to give the new medicine a trial. Here is what she has to say of the Premier Preparation after trying it:

"My system generally was in a weakened and run down condition. My appetite was very poor. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep at night. My housework was drudgery and I never felt like doing it.

"So many of my friends were being benefited by Tanlac I finally decided to try the new medicine. Tanlac seemed to help my system generally. I have a fine appetite now and everything I eat agrees with me and digests properly. My nerves are greatly improved too, and I sleep better at night now. I think Tanlac is a splendid medicine and I'm glad to recommend it."

Tanlac is now being introduced in Jacksonville at the Coover-Shreve Drug Co., East Side store, where a special Tanlac representative is explaining the new medicine to the public daily. Tanlac also may be obtained at the West Side store of the Coover-Shreve Co. It is sold in Waverly at the Wyle Drug Co.; in New Berlin at the New Berlin Drug Co.; in Ashland at H. O. Brownback's; in Versailles at A. G. Bates'; in Chapin at F. P. McKinney's; in Roodhouse at W. D. Berry's; in White Hall at the City Drug store; in Bluffs at F. T. Curtis'; and in Pittsfield at J. H. Barber & Co.; in Loami at L. N. VanDeren's; in Divernon at E. G. Haug's; in Manchester at C. D. Chapman's and in Winchester at the City drug store.—Adv.

Use Polar Auto OILS

Perfect Lubrication

Without perfect lubrication your machine will not deliver highest efficiency.

Perfect lubrication is not a matter of opinion, but is the product of scientific study. In the first place the raw material governs the by-products. POLAR OILS are taken from Pennsylvania crude, which is the highest grade in the world. It is a fact beyond any dispute that oils from this crude produce an oil very superior to those taken from any other crude oils, because of their freedom from asphalt. We are offering you in POLAR OILS and GREASES, highest efficiency, perfectly uniform oils full of service.

POLAR AUTO OILS are made on honor and sold to you that way, not simply to sell, but for you to use from time to time because they are right, and will not break at high temperatures, lubricate thoroughly and will not congeal in the coldest weather.

Perfect lubrication without formation of carbon is absolutely guaranteed.

You will find that by their use your lubricating problems will be solved safe and sure. It will pay you to use POLAR OILS.

We absolutely guarantee these oils to give satisfaction or we refund your money.

Hypoferrin

—is the Name

Mrs. Mollie Spangler

403 North Seventh Street, Allentown, Pa.

—is the Winner

Of the 79,537 names suggested for our New Wonder Tonic the Board of Judges has selected the word "HYPO-FERRIN" as the most suitable. This name was suggested by Mrs. Mollie Spangler, 403 West 7th St., Allentown, Pa. and, upon authority of the Board of Judges, we have sent her the $100.00 certified check.

We congratulate Mrs. Spangler upon her good fortune and thank all of you who participated in this contest.

Hypoferrin can now be had through your druggist. It is especially indicated for those troubled with weakness and nervousness in the various forms, for loss of appetite, insomnia, etc.

If you are affected with any of these ills, have your druggist send you a package of Hypoferrin—take it as directed. Our money-back-if-not-satisfied guarantee protects you against loss. $1.00 per bottle—6 bottles for $5.00. At your druggist or direct from us if he can not supply you. The list of ingredients is plainly printed on every package of Hypoferrin. Ask your druggist or physician his opinion.
